Third Try Gives Palestine Boy Victory In Soap Box Derby

Wellsville Racer Second

Gil Fennell, 15, To Enter Akron Finals

Gil Fennell, 15, of East Palestine, is the champion of Salem's third annual Soap Box Derby. He defeated David Johnston of Wellsville in the finals yesterday afternoon before a crowd of more than 2,500 on Blackburn Hill, Damascus Road.

Fennell nearly wore the champion's crown in Salem's two previous derbies, being runner-up in both. He used the same car three years, improving it after each defeat and cutting down on the weight each year as he grew heavier.

Fennell was the Class A champion yesterday, the division for boys aged 13-15. Johnston was the Class B winner in the division for boys 11 and 12 and will be eligible to compete again next year.

Awarded Defense Bonds

Fennell will represent Salem in the national Soap Box Derby in Akron Aug. 15. Both he and Johnston won $100 defense bonds for their victories. In addition, Fennell as the grand champion received the T. H. Keating plaque from the general manager of Chevrolet, the E. W. Bliss trophy for the fastest heat, 31 seconds, a bicycle, and a steak dinner for himself and his parents at Aldon's Diner.

At Akron he will receive a wrist watch and compete for five college scholarships.

Forty-nine boys raced in the Salem derby, co-sponsored by the Junior Chamber of Commerce and Parker Chevrolet Co.

Salem's best performances came in Class B where Ken Everhart was runner up, winning a $50 bond. Franklin Copcia took third place in Class B and Robert Root of Damascus was fourth.

In Class A, Philip Vernon of Wellsville was second, Cecil Smith of East Palestine third and James Ameling of Kensington, fourth.

Third and fourth place winners in each class all received $25 savings accounts and $25 bonds.

Best Designed Car

Gary Ulitchny of Salem won the Mullins trophy for the best designed car, John Creaturo of Wellsville won the Stanley Tool Board donated by Shell Oil Co. for the best constructed vehicle and Robert Freer of East Palestine won the Burgess Power Tool for the best upholstered car, donated by Collins & Aikman, upholstery manufacturers.

More than $1,000 in prizes were distributed to the contestants.

Fennell ran two heats in 31 seconds, and three straight at 31.1. The fastest heat in Class B was by Copcia with a 31.7.

The race, threatened several times by rain, was run off in record time, with no accidents to mar the event.

Judges were Mayors Dean Cranmer of Salem, Wilbur Warren of Lisbon, and Russell Harvey of East

Plan To Adjourn Congress Soon Faces Defeat

Taxes, Atomic Act, Housing, Farm Bill Still Being Disputed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Plans for congressional leaders to wind up the present session within two weeks today faced a threat of foundering on four disputed items in President Eisenhower's program: tax and Atomic Energy Act revision, housing and farm programs.

A belief was growing that it might require at least a week of August to clear the decks for adjournment which would free members to concentrate on the election campaign.

The Senate spent four long days last week debating the administration bill to revise the Atomic Energy Act. It was called back two hours early today with the end not yet in sight.

The major issue: Should Congress act to cancel an Eisenhower directive for the Atomic Energy Commission to contract with a private utility group for power in the Tennessee Valley Authority area. A small band of Democrats, with the support of several Republicans is leading a fight for such a move.

Housing Compromise

A Senate-House conference committee finished work Friday on a compromise housing bill, from which it stripped Senate provisions to carry out the President's program for building 35,000 public housing units a year for four years. The compromise contains authority for 35,000 units in one year, with occupancy limited to families dispossessed by slum clearance projects.

Moves to reject the compromise are regarded as likely in both branches. In the House, opponents of public housing probably will try to knock out even the revised provision. In the Senate, friends of public housing will try to send the measure back to conference to restore the four-year program.

A tax revision bill which Eisenhower calls the keystone of his program is still in a conference committee. The group made remarkable progress last week in resolving differences, but the knot of issue remains. It involves proposed tax reductions to be given

Nature Of Taft Memorial Is Yet To Be Decided

DAYTON (AP) — The Taft Foundation has reached no decision on the nature of a physical memorial honoring the late Sen. Robert A. Taft, says Mrs. Katherine Kennedy Brown, a trustee of the foundation.

Mrs. Brown, a Republican national committeewoman, is president of the Ohio Federation of Republican Women's organizations, the group that initiated the memorial last fall.

The Robert A. Taft Memorial Foundation, Inc., a non-profit organization, was founded last week with former President Herbert Hoover as chairman and President Eisenhower as honorary chairman.

It was decided the most appropriate memorial would be a national foundation or fund devoted to promoting and perpetuating high principles and standards of public service through grants for education, achievement and inspiration in this field.

However, a physical memorial has been discussed at various times and several suggestions have been made by members of the board of trustees. Mrs. Brown said today she preferred not to release the nature of these suggestions because the "whole thing is still premature."

She said the board is scheduled to meet this fall at a place and time to be decided later.

Mrs. J. W. Asbury of Salem headed the temporary committee for the Taft memorial.

Dr. Yasumura To Talk Here Twice On Tuesday

Dr. Saburo Yasumura, alumnus of Denison University and active Christian worker in colleges and YMCA centers in various parts of the world, will speak Tuesday noon at the luncheon meeting of the Rotary Club and in the evening at 7:30 p.m. in the First Baptist Church.

The public is invited to the evening session.

Indo Peace Talks Enter Last Hours

McCarthy Opens Probe Into Reds In Defense Plants; Blasted By Flanders

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.), seemingly unconcerned over a proposed vote of censure, launched a renewed public exploration today of his charges that Reds have infiltrated the nation's defense plants.

He has said plants in the Boston area are involved. He first announced plans to open the hearings in Boston last Saturday, but was dissuaded by Senate GOP leaders.

The Wisconsin senator gave no advance hint of his Senate investigations subcommittee's specific agenda for the day's session, the first regular open hearing it has held in months.

Nor did he have much to say over the weekend about the censure move, offered by Sen. Flanders (R-Vt) and ticketed for Senate consideration tomorrow, except that he feels "no concern" about it.

Likened To Hitler

Flanders stoked his anti-McCarthy drive in advance by releasing a planned Tuesday speech likening the Wisconsin senator to Germany's onetime dictator, Adolf Hitler. McCarthy, reached at home, had no comment. He has called Flanders, who is 73, "senile."

Today's subcommittee session marks McCarthy's return to a controversial Red-hunting role that came to an abrupt halt last March. That was when the investigative group, caught in the swirl of charges and countercharges between its chairman and top Army officials, ruled out further probes until a special inquiry into the Army-McCarthy dispute could be held.

And during that stormy inquiry, which ended June 1, McCarthy alleged 13 subversives had found their way into defense plants and that the hearings were blocking his plans to dig them out. Defense officials agreed to accept a list of the 133 and do the ferreting on their own, but at latest word had yet to receive the names from the senator. McCarthy had stipulated they must not be made public, and the Pentagon balked at that provision.

To Tackle 133 Names

As the subcommittee went back to work today, presumably to tackle the 133 names McCarthy

Mishaps Leave 7 People Hurt

Four In Hospital After Rt. 45 Crash

Three accidents on highways near Salem over the weekend resulted in seven injuries, state highway patrolmen reported. Two drivers were arrested.

In a four-car collision on Rt. 14, two miles east of Rt. 7, two people were injured at 12:15 a.m. today when a westbound auto driven by Robert Gibson, 20, of Petersburg, hit the rear of an auto driven by Richard Riley, 32, of Rogers, and then swerved into an eastbound car driven by Charles Robinson, 38, of Cumberland, Pa.

The accident occurred when autos driven by Harry Morris, 47, of Rogers and Riley stopped to allow another car to make a turn. Gibson hit the rear of the Riley auto pushing it into the one driven by Morris and then swerved off hitting the Robinson auto police reported. Two persons in the Riley auto, Ruth V. Riley, 29, and Loraine Riley, 17 months, were slightly injured.

Gibson was cited for failing to stop in the assured clear distance.

Four other people were hurt when an auto driven by James Fraser, 72, of Muncie, Ind., hit an auto driven by Kenneth West, 21, of Wellsville, at 1 p.m. Saturday four miles south of Salem on the Lisbon Rd. (Route 45).

Thirteen Defendants Are Fined By Mayor

Thirteen persons appeared before Mayor Dean B. Cranmer over the weekend and were fined. All but two of the offenses were traffic violations.

Leo Probert, 19, 411 Columbia St., was fined $15 and costs for disorderly conduct. Pleading to a similar charge was Bruce Reno, 19, Otis Air Force Base, Mass. He was fined $15 and costs.

For crossing the yellow line, John Franklin, 18, of Akron, was assessed $10 and costs as was George A. Nottrott, 51, Parma Heights.

Robert Lohli, 28, Alliance paid $50 and costs when he pleaded guilty to a reckless operation charge. A similar fine was paid by Donald L. Wyllam, 26, of Alliance for reckless operation.

Mayor Cranmer fined Clyde M. Wilson, 40, of Lisbon $10 and costs for crossing a yellow line.

Paul E. Jackson, 26, of Sebring, received two fines when he pleaded guilty to driving left of center for which he paid $15 and costs and for having fictitious registration which cost him $25 and costs.

Arrested for reckless driving, John C. McGuire, 22, 632 Cherry St. was fined $25 and costs when he pleaded guilty. Receiving the same fine for the same offense was Julius Novak, 22, New Salem, Pa.

Another charge of reckless driving was placed against Emory P. Brown, 52, Kent, who was fined $25 and costs.

Paul J. Brennan, 20, 404 N. Roosevelt Ave., appeared twice before Mayor Cranmer Saturday. In the morning he was arrested by police for passing on the right and was fined $10 and costs. In the afternoon state police charged him with reckless driving and he was fined $25 and costs.

Paul J. Brennan, 20, 404 N. Roosevelt Ave., appeared twice before Mayor Cranmer Saturday. In the morning he was arrested by police for passing on the right and was fined $10 and costs. In the afternoon state police charged him with reckless driving and he was fined $25 and costs.

1,500 At Bank Opening Held In Hanoverton

Among the 1,500 present at the formal opening of the new Farmers National Bank at Hanoverton Saturday were bankers from New York, Chicago, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Canton, Ravenna, Alliance, Carrollton, Minerva, Lisbon, East Liverpool and Salem.

Baskets of flowers from New York and Chicago banks were included in the 75 floral tributes which decorated the new bank. It will be managed by Lee H. Bowman.

Visitors at the open house celebration received souvenirs. There were billfolds for the men and tiny banks for women and children.

On the east wall of the bank's interior, is a reproduction of the original painting of the "Mary Ann," the first and only boat which navigated the old Sandy and Beaver Canal. The picture appears in the Hanoverton history and also in the history of the old canal which was compiled and written by Max Gard and Attorney W. H. Vodrey, Jr.

Lisbon Driver Fined, Jailed By Mayor

LISBON — A Lisbon youth was sentenced to 10 days in jail and fined a total of $100 and costs on two traffic charges at a hearing Sunday before Mayor Wilbur Warren.

Robert Fatherly, 19, of Grant Street, received the sentence and was fined $50 for driving with a temporary permit without carrying a licensed operator and was fined $50 for reckless operation.

Harry Shaw of East Liverpool pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while intoxicated and was fined $100 and costs and sentenced to three days in jail at a hearing this morning before Mayor Warren.

Village Patrolman John Varner made the arrest Sunday night at 9:15 on East Lincoln Way. He said Shaw passed him on the right side nearly sidestepping the cruiser. He drove for three blocks with no lights.

Mayor Warren fined three other motorists a total of $50 and costs while another motorist forfeited a $25 bond over the weekend.

Fined were Daisy K. Valentine of Cuyahoga Falls, $15 for passing within 100 feet of an intersection. Brewster Williams of Cleveland, $25 for reckless operation and Walter J. Koby of Vienna, $10 for speeding.

Melvin H. Bartlett of Cleveland, charged with reckless operation forfeited the appearance bond.

The city was without water from 1 to 4 p.m.

"It's going to be unpopular," said Mayor Virgil Goodman. "But if that's what it takes, we're going to do it."

The cutoff was ordered when citizens were found watering their lawns despite an ordinance prohibiting it.

Slaying Weapon Still Missing

Search Of Lake Fails To Reveal Instrument

CLEVELAND (AP) — The pebbly mud in Lake Erie shallows, strewn with bottle caps and bits of refuse, has failed to yield the instrument that chopped up the pretty face of Mrs. Marilyn Sheppard.

Detectives used a mine detector to scour the beach and water behind the sprawling Bay Village home where the 31-year-old wife of an osteopath was found murdered in her blood-soaked bed July 4.

The search for the murder weapon continued through patches of weeds in an embankment between the beach and the house.

The suburb's police chief, John P. Eaton, had borrowed the mine detector from Fort Hayes in Columbus, and an Army sergeant was sent to help operate it.

Eaton said he did not plan to continue using two professional divers, who last week futilely picked up over the lake bottom to a distance of 300 feet from the shore. Police had estimated that to be the greatest distance the murder weapon could have been hurled by a person standing near the shoreline.

Coroner Samuel R. Gerber has estimated that the four-months pregnant woman could have lived five to 30 minutes after her head was struck repeatedly by the weapon, believed to be a blunt instrument.

Tore Hair From Head

Mrs. Sheppard apparently tore hair from her head while she thrashed in agony, the coroner said, and the amount of blood on her bed also indicated she did not die immediately.

Police speculated the savagery of the attack points to a psychotic person as the murderer.

Authorities released Mrs. Jessie M. Dill Saturday after questioning her on her statement that a woman answering Mrs. Sheppard's description had confided some intimate secrets at nearby Fairport Harbor last June 14. Mrs. Dill, a 24-year-old divorcee, had volunteered the information to Bay Village police the previous day. She was the only material witness held in the case.

Burned By Fire In Sons' Bedroom

A Washington Ave. man was injured last night during a fire in his sons' bedroom.

Carl J. Wanner, 442 Washington Ave., suffered second degree burns of his face and right hand while attempting to rescue his young son whom he thought was still in the burning room. However, both of his boys, Carl Jr., 10 and Danny, 7, had fled from the room previously.

According to Fire Chief C. W. Wright, the fire at 11:04 p.m. was confined to the bedroom where it originated from an electric bed lamp.

While no estimate of the damage was available, the loss is covered by insurance.

A third child, Karen Sue, 8, sleeping in an adjoining room escaped injury as did Mrs. Wanner, who called the fire department.

Mendes-France Has 1½ Days For Duel With Reds

Members Of Truce Delegation Set But Many Obstacles Left

GENEVA (AP) — French Premier Pierre Mendes-France went today into the final 36 hours of his diplomatic duel with the Communists for peace in Indochina with what a British spokesman described as "a chance that's all."

Another Western official said he wouldn't even bet on the proposition. The top Communist delegates here kept to themselves.

One high conference source said Mendes-France had pushed away one obstacle to peace in a tentative fashion—the long debated question of the International Commission to police the armistice. This source said the French and the Communists seem to have settled the composition of the commission with Canada, India, and Poland as the members. There would be last minute changes, it was emphasized.

The British, it was reported, will support Mendes-France on this composition. The position of the United States has not been made known. In the past the United States has opposed the inclusion of any Communist states on the commission because of the unhappy results in Korea, where Czechoslovakia and Poland hampered operations of the Neutral Nations Supervisory Commission with their veto power.

Under the tentative agreement reached by Mendes-France and the Communists, decisions would have to be taken by unanimous vote on any issues which might lead to the resumption of hostilities. Otherwise a simple majority would decide. The conference source emphasized that the agreement was not in its final form.

Progress also was reported unofficially on the question of elections in Viet Nam after the armistice. There were reports the Communists were ready to accept a delay of 18 months. Earlier they had asked for a vote on a new government within six months. The French originally asked for a two-year delay.

There was little doubt that Viet Nam was going to be partitioned somewhere between the 14th and 16th parallels.

A Viet Namese spokesman said today "there will be a partition and we realize we cannot avoid it."

He said his government still

Negley Store Again Looted By Thieves

NEGLEY — Scattering canned goods and other groceries about in apparent haste to get away, thieves ransacked Pancake's Service Station, county general store and gas station south of Negley and carted off merchandise valued at more than $500 this morning.

Mrs. Minnie Pancake, proprietor of the store, a common target for thieves in the past two years said two cases of canned coffee worth about $30, 10 large sacks of sugar, cigarettes, canned vegetables, candy and other food and confections were stolen. The intruders also took a quantity of gasoline.

Mrs. Pancake told sheriff deputies the goods probably were hauled away in a truck. She said tire marks could be seen at the rear door.

Doors were standing open when Mrs. Pancake came to open up this morning at 8. The thieves apparently entered by breaking a window.

The store was broken into twice in 1953. The last theft occurred last Christmas eve when goods worth $150 were taken.

Hot Weather Boils Midwest

Long Heat Wave Kills 237; No Relief Seen

By The Associated Press
Hot weather continued at full boil in the nation's middle section today after a brief period of summer late last week. There was little relief in sight.

The toll of the extended heat wave, which had only a brief respite, had reached 237 lives yesterday when temperatures from central Texas and northern Louisiana to southwestern North Dakota climbed generally into 100-plus figures.

Scattered thunderstorms tempered the heat in the Ohio Valley and near the Canadian border, but west and south of those sections temperatures matched or exceeded the normal summer extremes of the adjoining desert Southwest. Sunday deaths attributable to the heat included 3 at Fort Smith, Ark., where the mercury mounted to 108; 3 in southern California, where readings ranged up to more than 100 in the San Joaquin Valley; and 5 in Oklahoma, which had such steaming weather as Oklahoma City's 105 and Tulsa's 110. The day's peak was 116 at Fort Scott, Kan. Chanute in the same state had 113, and in adjoining Missouri it was 111 at Kansas City, 112 at St. Louis.

Other samplings in the heat belt included 106 at Quincy, Ill., and Presidio, Texas; 104 at Memphis; 101 at Indianapolis; 100 at Omaha, Rapid City, S. D., and Dickinson, N. D.

Showers and thunderstorms were confined mostly to the Rocky Mountain region, western Kansas and Nebraska, the northern Great Lakes area and New England.

Away from the stifling blanket of hot air down the center of the nation, it was generally pleasant with temperatures in the 80s.

Village Firemen Set Festival Date

WASHINGTONVILLE — Committees of firemen and other interested residents have completed plans for the annual firemen's festival which will be held on the lawn of the Lutheran Church Friday evening. In event of rain it will be postponed until the following evening.

There will be a program, concessions and prizes. Proceeds from the festival will be used by the Fire Department to purchase new equipment and maintain that which they already have. Equipment of the department will be on display at the grounds during the festival.

Mrs. Walter Warner entertained the Jolly Twelve Club in her home Monday evening. Mrs. Harve Bush, Mrs. Margaret Spear and Mrs. William Grim shared honors in euchre. Mrs. Loren Weikart will entertain the club in two weeks.

Mrs. Greenwood of Boardman, Loe Nichols, William Grim and Mrs. Lloyd Culler won prizes at the benefit card party sponsored by the Pythian Sisters in their hall Tuesday evening. Another party will be held in two weeks.

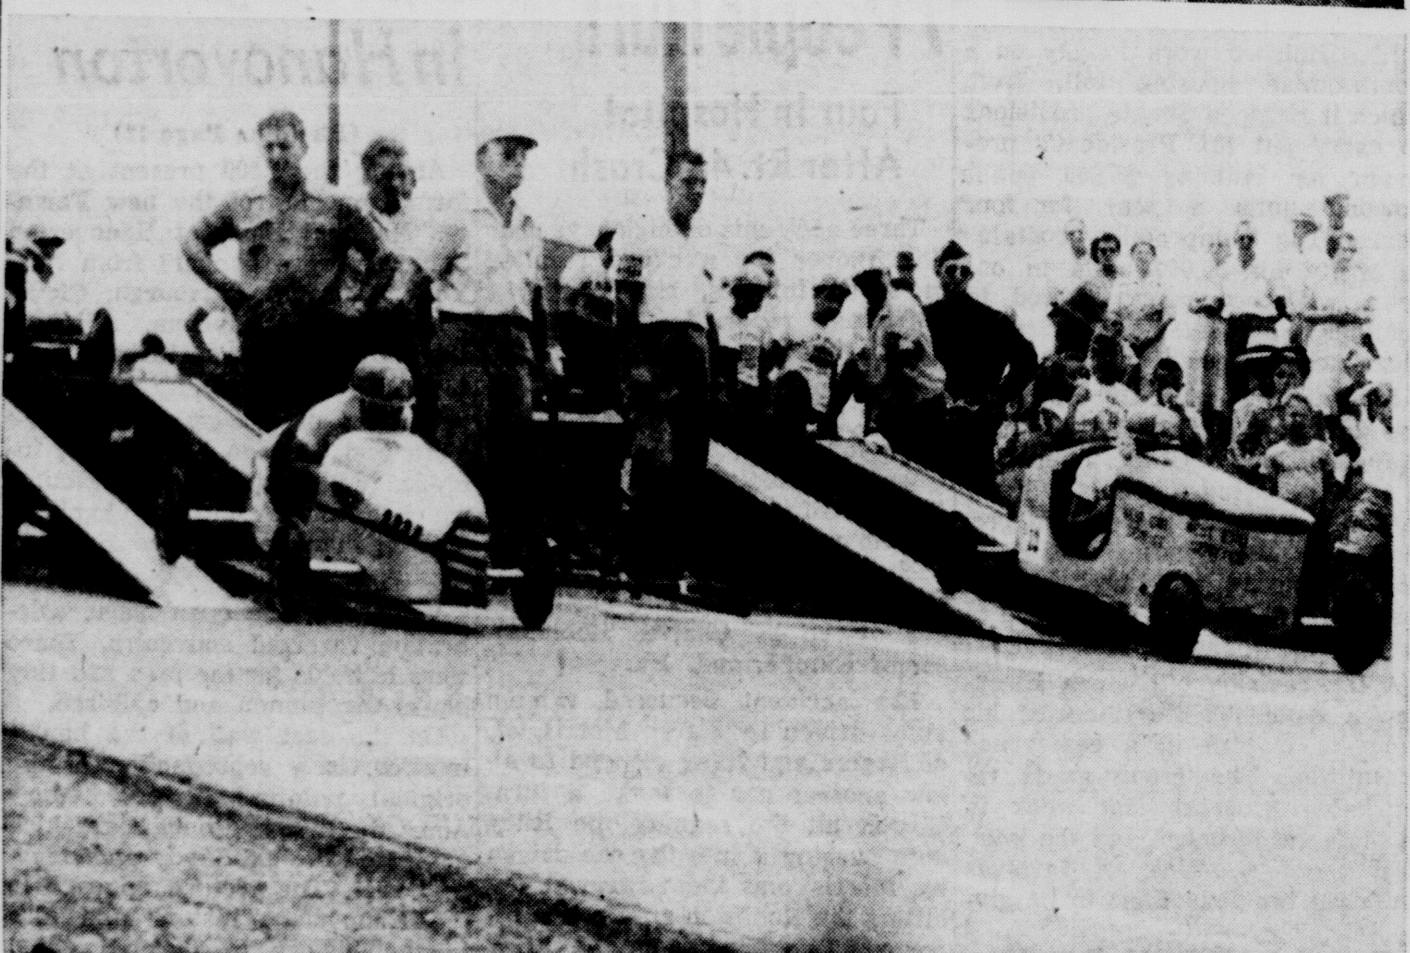

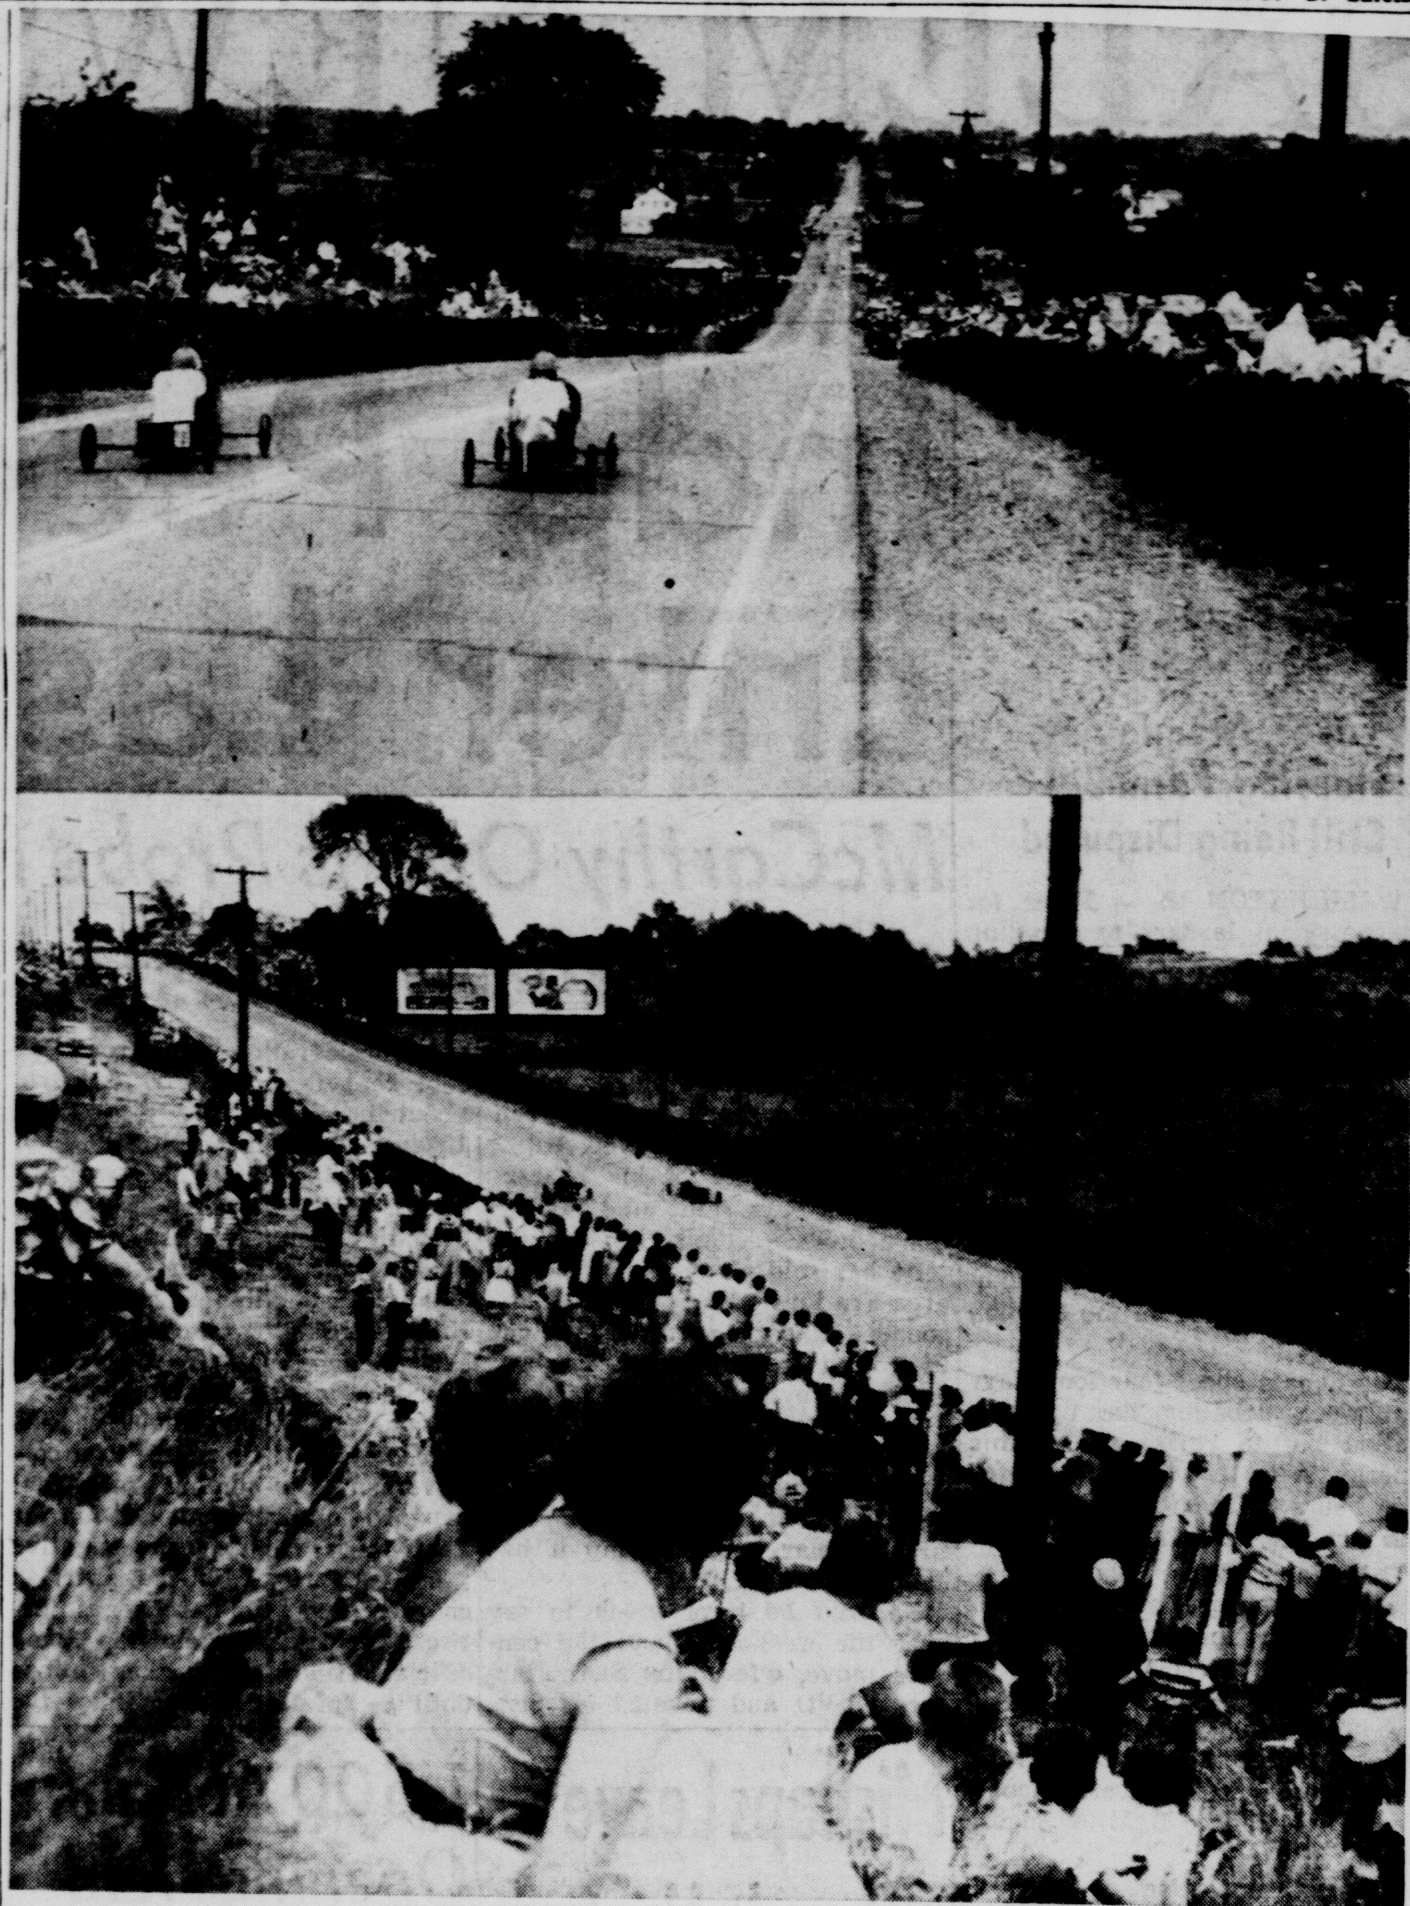

The Bethel class of the Methodist Church held its monthly meeting in the social room of the church Wednesday evening with Mrs. Glen Jackson and Mrs. John King hostesses. Thirty members were present. Mrs. Russell Smith had charge of devotionals on "Independence Day." Mrs. Robert Bertollette gave a book report on "You Can Never Tell."

A committee was appointed to help serve at the Firemen's Festival Friday evening. The class donated $10 to the Brownie Troop for a trip. Bingo entertained at the social period with Mrs. Donald Vignon, Mrs. Wilbur Senior, Mrs. Robert Scullion and Mrs. Harold Alexander winning prizes.

The class will hold a dinner party at Heck's restaurant for their August meeting. Knights of Pythias will sponsor a benefit card party at 8:15 to-night in their hall. E. L. Girard, who joined the order in 1903, will be honored in the near future by the presentation of a 50-year pin.

Ohio Town Forms Blood Brigade To Save Life Of 6-Year-Old Boy

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP)—Townsmen formed a blood brigade today to save the life of 6-year-old Eddie Phillips, who has been bleeding steadily since his tonsils were removed 13 days ago.

His unnamed disease, a certain deficiency in the blood, prevents the blood from clotting. He needs fresh blood and direct transfusions. Stored blood will not do.

This industrial city of 34,000 in southwest Ohio has responded with hundreds of offers of transfusions. More than 40 pints of blood have been pumped into the youngster already.

Eddie's physician said the boy was in critical condition but his spirits were good.

The bleeding is centered in the throat and a tube has been inserted below it to allow him to take in oxygen. This prevents Eddie from talking, but he cheerfully shakes his head yes or no when questions are put to him.

The doctor said the youngster was not suffering from hemophilia, a similar disease which makes people bleed when slightly wounded. The doctor said it was a strange, unnamed malady. The blood is deficient in one element one day and another element the next day.

Before Eddie underwent the tonsilectomy, his blood was tested. The noncoagulation showed up after surgery.

Mrs. Ruth Jones, secretary of the Presbyterian Church, said the first appeal for type O blood brought 180 offers from private citizens. One industrial plant, Armco, reported 417 employees ready to donate blood for the boy.

"The response is just out of this world," said Mrs. Jones, who has been accepting offers of blood for Eddie.

Pike Unions Pledge No Work Stoppages

CLEVELAND (AP)—Officers of three labor organizations whose members are working on the Ohio Turnpike have pledged to avoid work stoppages on the 241-mile toll road.

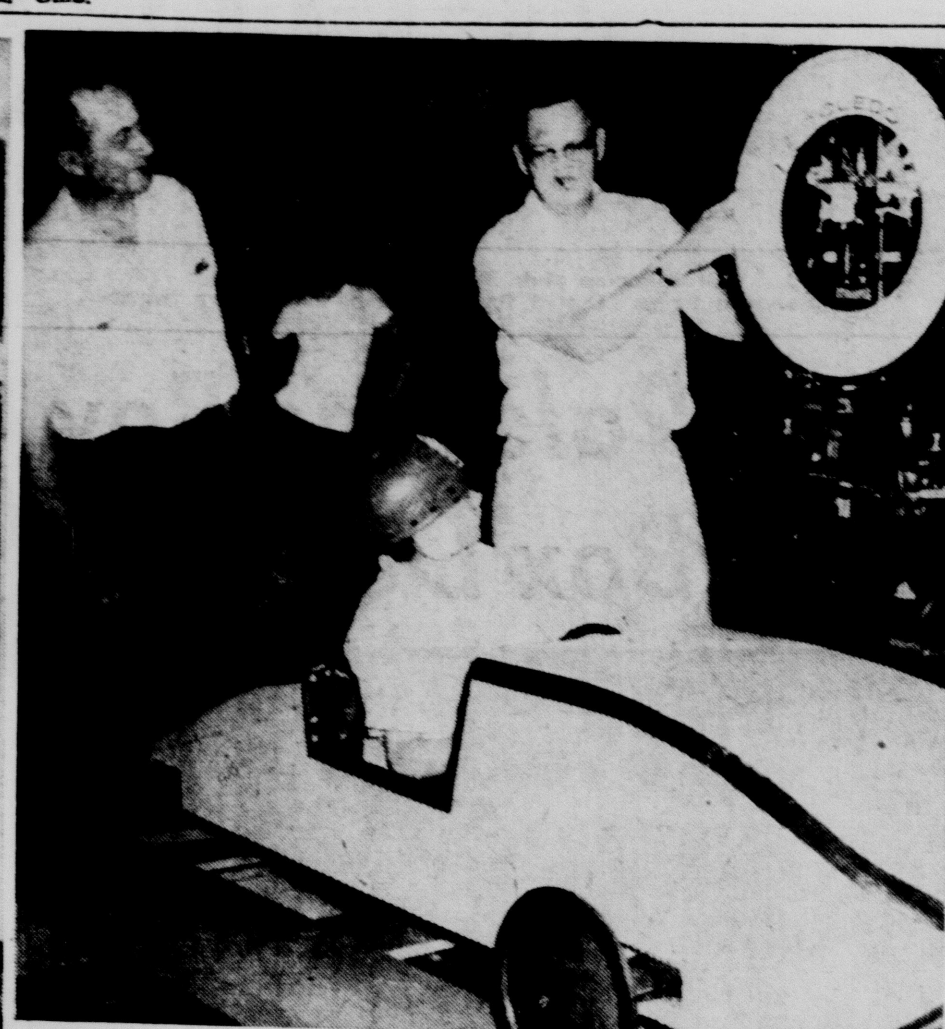

Frank P. Converse, president of the operating engineers union, said fellow union leaders should "try in every conceivable way to bring about ways and means to avoid work stoppages of any kind."

That viewpoint was shared by Louis Triscaro, business representative of the Teamsters Central States District Council, and Tom Fioretti, state secretary of the laborers district council.

The three officials made the statements at a get-together with turnpike contractors and other contractors working in the Cleveland area.

WOUNDED IN SHOOTING
CLEVELAND (AP)—A bullet struck a 16-year-old youth yesterday who was riding in an automobile police were trying to halt. A plain clothes-man, Patrolman Charles Hudson, said he flashed his badge at the driver, a 24-year-old, after he became suspicious the youths were in pursuit of two girls pedestrians. Hudson grabbed the driver and hung on, though the vehicle had started to move, and another patrolman, James W. Chapelle, said he fired into the back of the car. The younger boy was hit and was treated for scalp wounds. Police said both youths were taken in for questioning. Neither was immediately identified.

Merchants Plan To Hold 2 Sales

To Map Spring, Fall Annual Village Events

COLUMBIANA — The retail merchants' committee of Columbiana Chamber of Commerce has called a special meeting at Heck's for tomorrow noon to take the first step toward two bi-annual sales events, spring and fall, in Columbiana. First of such events is proposed for this fall.

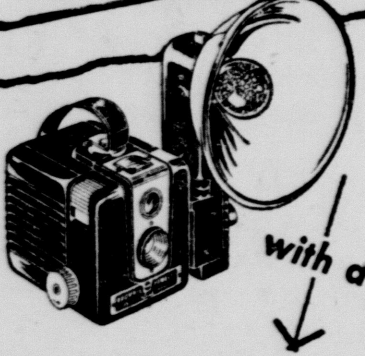

Louis D. Bair, chairman of the merchants' committee and originator of the idea, has obtained as the speaker for the occasion A. B. Corwin of the Retail Trade Development association of Houston, Tex., which specializes in a continuing program of community sales events. Invitations to the meeting tomorrow have been sent out to about 100 retailers in all lines.

Mrs. Cora Sebring Returns To Attend Sebring Camp Meeting

Mrs. Cora Harris Sebring of Sebring, Fla., who flew here to attend the 50th annual camp of the Sebring Interdenominational Holiness Camp Meeting Association, gave a brief review of the first service held a half century ago when the anniversary session was held Sunday afternoon at Quaker Hill, southwest of Sebring.

Mrs. Sebring is the widow of George E. Sebring, who instituted the camp. The family donated the eight acres now being used for this religious project. For the first year tents were used both for the services and persons attending.

Rev. C. F. Oliver of Covington, Ky., was the first president of the association and the camp was under his leadership for a number of years. The late Rev. Bud Robinson, Kentucky evangelist, and the late Rev. William Huff were preachers for the first meetings.

The second year the present auditorium was built along with a kitchen, dining hall and several cottages.

A niece of Mr. Sebring's, the late Mrs. Will L. Murphy of Sebring, assisted in promoting the camp and also had part in many of its early services.

This is Mrs. Sebring's first visit to the camp in nine years. She resides at Sebring, Fla., which was founded by her husband around 1911. The town now has a population of around 7,000 and is noted for its citrus fruit and tourists. A native of East Palestine, Mrs. Sebring was graduated from a Pittsburgh academy and attended Ohio Wesleyan College. Rev. Harold B. Winn of Salem, president of the camp, introduced Mrs. Sebring.

J. W. Hicks, 72-year-old Portland, Ore., funeral director, drove 2,942 miles in 62 hours to be present at the Sunday services. A former resident of Beloit, he has resided in the west since September of 1947. He worked on many of the buildings in Sebring in the early part of the century. He was accompanied by Mrs. Hicks.

Mrs. Sebring and Mr. Hicks were among 16 persons who were at the first service of the first camp and also at the anniversary session Sunday. The others are Charles Stanley of Damascus; Mrs. Enoch Shreve of Cleveland; Rachel Bowden of Alliance; Mrs. Martha Lee of Beloit; and Mr. and Mrs. S. Stanton Barton, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Schreckengost, Mrs. Luva Burris, Mrs. Ralph Dunlap, James W. Speakman, Mrs. Pearl Eckelberry and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Barclay, all of Sebring. A few in the group have attended all 50 camps.

The meetings will be continued daily through this week, concluding with the Sunday night service.

Speakers include Dr. S. H. Turbeville of Winter Park, Fla.; Rev. H. Gilbert Williams of Haddensfield, N.J.; and Dr. H. M. Couchenour of Chicago. Prof. Charles Sheppard of Wilmore, Ky., is the song leader. Miss Janie Bradford of Washington, Pa., and Mrs. Edith Gallagher of Sebring are workers for the young people.

Stassen Ends Week-Long Talks On Foreign Trade

WASHINGTON (AP)—Foreign Operations Administrator Harold Stassen, returned from week-long talks in Europe on the problem of East-West trade, says he hopes to make his recommendations public after conferences today with administration officials.

Stassen, who also appears today before the Senate Appropriations Committee to support fund requests for the new $3,100,000,000 foreign aid bill, flew back from Europe yesterday.

He met with French and British officials to iron out the Western approach to trade with Soviet Russia and its satellites.

Ike's Son Is Assigned To Washington As Aide

FT. BENNING, Ga. (AP)—President Eisenhower's son, Maj. John Eisenhower, is being temporarily assigned to Washington as a military aide.

The major, presently stationed here, said yesterday that he will work with the White House liaison office, leaving here about July 22.

"They have some business they want me to handle and I will be assigned essentially as an aide," he said.

You get Tomorrow's Style in Today's Buick

It's a Million Dollar Ride-and no foolin'

YOU can see for yourself the gay and gorgeous styling that's sure to be the fresh note next year, too.

And you can easily learn that here is power a-plenty—the highest V8 power, Series for Series, in the annals of Buick history.

But what you can never know, till you try it yourself, is the feel of a Buick in motion.

It's a ride as precision-soft and firm as only coiled steel can make it.

Yes, coil springs on all four wheels. And a full-length torque-tube drive for true tracking. And a massive X-braced frame for solid steadiness. And specially calibrated shock absorbers, V-braced struts, wide-rim wheels, a unique front-end geometry—plus a host of other betterments too numerous to mention.

You feel the result of this advanced engineering every mile you drive—in what is literally and figuratively a Million Dollar Ride.

You feel it in the superb and buoyant cradling. You feel it in the serene levelness of your going over ruts and ridges. You feel it in the precise snubbing of jars and jounces. You feel it in a new kind of steadiness, handling ease, curve control.

Only thing for you to do, we believe, is to come try this miracle of motion—and we'll be glad to oblige.

That way you'll also learn firsthand about the style, the power, and the value that have made Buick such a best-selling success this year. For Buick today is outselling all other cars in America except two of the so-called "low-price three."

(Smart tip: With Buick such a beautiful buy this year, think what a winner it's bound to be at trade-in time! Come see us this week!)

Politics Or Economics

If Congress could work out an agricultural price-support policy in terms of economics, there would be no question about making supports flexible. It has been shown beyond any shadow of a doubt that inflexible supports at a high level have the effect of subsidizing overproduction. Producers raise price - supported crops for no better reason than to take advantage of support prices.

Thus, the question that the U. S. Senate must decide as it debates the farm bill is whether or not to make an economic or a political decision. The compromise would be a decision half economics, half politics, the kind made by the House of Representatives on July 2 when it approved a scale of price supports sliding from 82½ to 90 per cent of parity.

The absurdity of limiting the range to 7½ percentage points is revealed by the fact the original law containing a parity provision set the range from 52 to 75 per cent of parity. By 1948 the range had been moved upward from 60 to 90 per cent of parity. But before this formula ever could be applied, Congress changed it from 75 to 90 per cent. The 1948 law will go into effect automatically if Congress cannot agree on another temporary formula to satisfy the politics of the situation at the expense of the economics.

It is a good guess this may be the outcome of the Senate's farm bill debate - that President Eisenhower will veto a bill containing little or no flexibility and thereby get the advantage of the 75 to 90 per cent range in the 1948 which is effective automatically at the end of 1954, unless Congress postpones it.

Testimony By An Expert

Rep. Martin Dies of Texas was the first chairman of a congressional committee that specialized in hunting Communists - the original un-American Activities Committee. For his pains, he was given the worst plastering of abuse given to any public figure during the Zany era when the Roosevelt administration made Communist coddling a public policy.

Consequently, when Rep. Dies testifies about improving rules for congressional investigations, he is a qualified expert - an old hand at the business, bearing the scars of battle. His recommendation, given in testimony before a Senate subcommittee headed by Sen. Jenner which is considering rules to improve congressional investigations, is this:

"Get a good chairman and a good committee and you will have a good investigation. Outside of that, all you need is a few fundamental rules to see that the witness and the public get a fair break."

Every so often, there needs to be a reminder, like this one, that rules and regulations are no substitute for good character and good faith. In fact, where there is absence of character and faith, rules and regulations are likely to be misused to make worse the very conditions they were supposed to make better.

Congressmen studying ways and means to improve congressional investigations will hear no wiser testimony on an important subject than Rep. Dies has given.

Freedom By Demonstration

A German "kinderlift," patterned after the famous Berlin "airlift" of 1948 and 1949, invigorates faith in the long-term ability of the free to sell their way of living by demonstration.

The "kinderlift" operation aims at moving hundreds of German children out of Berlin to rural areas and towns in West Germany for summer vacations. Many of them will be given a vacation from Communist-controlled East Berlin.

The sponsoring organization is the American Conference of Women's Activities in Germany. Many children will be guests of American military and civilian families in West Germany.

This is a tiny activity compared with the larger program sponsored by the U. S. State Department to sell freedom by demonstration. Thousands of high school and college students from countries bordering the Soviet area of influence have been given a chance by the State Department to get acquainted with the United States as visitors. The American credo in this respect is simple and direct; it is almost naive in its simplicity.

We believe that to know us as we really are will cause us to be respected for our ideals and practices. While it cannot be proved that this is so, with so large a part of the world holding Americans in contempt, neither can it be proved untrue. It is still reasonable to suppose that if all barriers against emigration were removed more human beings would choose to live in America than anywhere else on earth.

A kiss has a funny way of getting back to its originator.

Statistics show that an ordinary pipe can be smoked in 18 minutes. If you don't run but of matches.

Highway Proposal

By RAYMOND MOLEY

Ike's Plan For Trans-U.S. Road Stuns Governors

The last vestiges of the ground beneath the President's Commission on Intergovernmental Relations, formerly headed by Clarence M. Mansion, seem to be crumbling away because of premature recommendations by the White House.

The major purpose of that commission was to make constructive suggestions for the restoration of some of the lost powers and responsibilities of the states.

In the past two or three decades the federal monster, has been seizing more and more of the tax sources of the states, for which it returns a portion in the form of grants-in-aid. The most obvious and logical of these sources is the tax on gasoline and other factors in highway travel.

The governors were getting ready at this year's conference at Bolton Landing, New York, to resolve strongly to get this tax back for the states and to build their highways without much if any federal aid.

Some of the governors had already been considerably upset by the big federal highway program which has already been enacted. What was their surprise when they heard from the vice president a rather vague, but for them menacing, suggestion that they join with the federal government in a stupendous highway expenditure of 50 billion dollars over a period of 10 years.

THIS, IT SHOULD be emphasized, would be in addition to the very large sums now being spent by the federal government and the states for highways.

The plan is, as I have noted, vague. It would be "a co-operative arrangement" so that "local" government would be "the manager of its own area." To be "manager" would presumably be to do the building. But does this mean local governments such as counties and cities, or does it mean states?

The money part of the idea, it would seem, would be for the federal government to advance funds or to guarantee state and local obligations. This presumably would involve not only the retention of the present federal taxes on gasoline, but a considerable increase in their rate.

The basic reason why there is need to return tax sources and responsibilities to the states is to retain the principle of our federal constitutional system. But there are other arguments favoring the states.

One of those arguments is the desirability of maintaining state pride and interest in highways. There is now a friendly and wholesome rivalry among the states in road building.

FOLLOWING the lead of Pennsylvania, several states are building or are planning to build great trans-state turnpikes or thruways. These in a few years, with other good highways, will make interstate travel safer and faster. Moreover, they can be made to pay for themselves.

There is the simple matter of efficiency and economy in construction by the states rather than by the federal government - a fact which even the President admits.

There is, moreover, in the President's message to the governors a suggestion that highways are in a state of primitive inadequacy. He cites his experience as an army officer 35 years ago, when he accompanied an army truck convoy in an experimental transcontinental trip. He should travel the same road now and realize that while there is room for great improvement, the comparison is not relevant.

I have crossed the country every year by automobile since the end of the second World War and have seen a revolutionary change. This progress could be accelerated by returning the proper sources of taxation to the states.

IN SHORT, there is no need, military or otherwise, for such a gigantic program as the President suggests.

The tax on gasoline is already about all that the traffic should be allowed to bear. To add more penalties to the gallon might well show that we are at the point of diminishing returns from that source.

Finally, the President should by this time realize that there is a real and menacing danger in federal spending of that sort.

There is already a very considerable revival of the old pork-barrel racket in expenditures for various purposes. To offer a price of 5 billion dollars a year would make matters infinitely worse.

Congressmen, denied federal jobs by the President's scruples about politics, will find other ways to get themselves re-elected - and far more costly ways.

Health To You

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M.D.

Emotional Control Is Adolescents' Problem

It sometimes seems as though the period of life known as adolescence is more neglected than any other. From the health standpoint, enormous progress has been made in the control of those diseases which formerly took the lives of so many small children, but in many respects the study of the particular problems of adolescence seems to have lagged behind.

Adolescence is defined as the period of life between puberty and maturity and encompasses roughly the years from 12 to 19 or 20, perhaps being somewhat earlier in girls than boys.

The chances of contracting some fatal disease during adolescence is comparatively slight, and while efforts to improve the health of all ages, including adolescence, must continue, the major problem is emotional and mental development during this period since they play such an important part in later adjustment to the problems of maturity.

A specific problem which should be tackled more vigorously is the problem of automobile accidents among these youthful members of our society.

The emotional characteristics of adolescence have been studied repeatedly. One report on this subject concluded that the adolescent is struggling for independence against the rules set up by grownups. Those of us who have passed through this phase can remember our own attitudes and certainly can corroborate this statement.

During adolescence, the report goes on, speech and behavior, from day to day, are frequently contradictory. The adolescent commonly seems to be an idealist and yet certainly does not act this way. In his relations with others the adolescent may hate violently one minute and love violently at the next.

As a rule, the adolescent hides his own feelings, at least from grownups, but may be exceedingly talkative and open with those of his own age.

A better understanding of the adolescent and his emotional problems on the part of parents and teachers in particular may greatly aid in the establishment of a stable personality in adult life.

So They Say

The United States pledges itself, not merely to political opposition to communism, but to help to alleviate conditions in Guatemala and elsewhere which might afford communism an opportunity to spread its tentacles throughout the hemisphere.

—Secretary of State Dulles.

The Statue (of Liberty) sends out a beacon of encouragement to oppressed people everywhere. The Torch of Freedom which it holds in its right hand knows no boundaries and no international barriers, and its light will never go out as long as hope for freedom exists.

Sometimes Called The Sincerest Form Of Flattery

The Central Intelligence Agency

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

Espionage is a technique of statecraft, ancient, complicated, deceptive, which only experts can handle and experts are rare. The Central Intelligence Agency is an espionage agency and counter-espionage organization, authorized by Congress and functioning for all branches of the government in foreign relations. It has no function inside the United States and is not, and ought never to be, a competitor of the FBI or the Secret Service or any other domestic investigative or law enforcement agency.

In the course of its existence, it has been headed by three competent and well-informed men, Adm. Roscoe Hillekoetter, Gen. Walter Bedell Smith and the incumbent, Allen Dulles. The latter was in the OSS and has been continuously engaged in this work since World War II.

THE LOSS WAS more or less thrown together during World War II by Gen. William Donovan, presently our ambassador to Thailand. It was not well-organized or correctly manned in the circumstances because there was no prior experience in the United States with precisely this kind of organization.

We had Army G-2 and Naval Intelligence and State Department reports, but we did not have an office for organized espionage. Unquestionably the OSS accepted too many Communists in its personnel, although it has been proper espionage practice, in special circumstances, to employ the double-agent, that is, a spy who works for both sides.

The funds of an espionage organization must be secret and hidden; otherwise each discussion over appropriations would uncover the operations to the advantage of the enemy. Whenever public funds are secretly disbursed, a prospect for corruption exists.

This is a hazard in espionage work that cannot be avoided, particularly in foreign operation, the disclosure of any segment of which could result not only in the spies being caught and killed, but in the disruption of "systems" established at great cost in time and money.

For example, it may be necessary to establish a system, the objective of which is to steal enemy codes, to check against fraudulent codes being planted, to watch for new codes as they come into existence. This is dangerous work. When the Russians or their satellites who engage in it are caught, our practice is to expel them from this country.

THE BEST MEN and women for such work are cold professionals who do it principally for money. Such people are rarely involved in the type of emotionalism which leads to disclosures.

Payment for such work, successful or unsuccessful, come very high because the risk is death. And every phase of this work must be secret. The spy's name, his address, his nationality must never be disclosed. If a country is careless about that, no professional will ever work for it. He can sell his wares elsewhere without similar risks.

In the old days, before World War II, such dealers in documents preferred to work with the British, even if the United States was the ultimate repository for the documents, because the British knew how to keep their mouths closed and their eyes open.

Biggest of the new wrinkles in transportation this year is the "piggy-back" method of hauling truck trailers to their destinations on railroad flat cars. One train crew can take charge of a whole retinue of trailers this way, taking them to distribution points without traffic headaches. All major railroads are taking it up as rapidly as they can prepare the facilities, which do not have to be much more elaborate than those used for years for loading and unloading circus trains.

Not being in the trucking business or the railroad business, I would regard the whole thing as nothing more than an interesting idea, except for a possibility that suggests itself. The possibility is that railroad's ultimately may branch out and offer a similar service for passenger - car tourists one day soon. That would be worth waiting to see. I am a potential tourist, if they ever figure out a way to eliminate all the useless rigging and driving.

"Piggy-back" could be like driving an automobile on to a ferry boat and enjoying the scenery en route. Except that a "piggy-back" tourist would never leave dry land. There he would be, high and dry in his Strugglemobile 8 on the deck of a flat car, looking at the scenery while the engineer up front took charge of chewing up the distance.

The tourist could ride all night, either sleeping in his car, or taking life easy in a sleeping car attached to the "piggy-back" train. He would have his choice of eating his own fried chicken and bananas and throwing the bones and peelings out on the railroad right of way, or living it up sumptuously in a railroad diner.

The point is, there are parts of almost every tourist's journey which could be made more logically and more pleasantly on a railroad's right of way than they could be made by public road - and a further

A congressional committee investigation into espionage, even if held in executive session, is unsound.

Granted that the CIA is very imperfect because it is too young and still has some OSS leftovers not only in personnel but in methods; granted that it is offensive to Americans to expend public funds without disclosing to the last penny how they are spent; granted that no administrative agency of government should be independent of congressional control - espionage ipso facto requires violations of normal public procedures because its essential characteristic is secrecy.

IF IT IS public policy to have no secrets, it means that the United States has to be without an espionage or a counter-espionage organization.

On the other hand, some experts in espionage do believe that the time is ripe for a reevaluation of the CIA, its methods and its procedures.

The appointment of Gen. Mark Clark to do this job for the Hoover Commission is a perfect one. Gen. Clark understands the work and he is one of the most forthright of our military men.

Sen. Joseph McCarthy wisely decided, when Gen. Clark was appointed, to forego his own investigations and to turn over to Gen. Clark whatever data his investigators have gathered on this subject. I am sure that Allen Dulles will cooperate with Gen. Clark.

Piggy-Backing

their point is that for tourists who want to get where they are going with maximum safety and minimum energy, an overnight journey in their own automobiles by "piggy-back" train would be logical and probably more economical than buying a night's lodging.

Everybody has been saying for years that the railroads' big trouble has been lack of imagination, taking the industry as a whole. More accurately, their trouble has been lack of financial leeway, due to excessive regulation by bureaucratic chowderheads with no interest in keeping the railroad industry alive and healthy.

The trucking industry has nothing to fear in the long run from "piggy-backing" because if it works it will speed up distribution of goods that sometime or other in their movement from producer to consumer must be handled by trucks. In the long run, the truckers would have something to gain because - in the long run - long-distance shipping by "piggy-back" would clear the roads for more efficient operation of short-run trucking.

And if the idea spread to passenger - car tourists, it would go even further to relieve highway congestion. In 10 more years if I can't load my own automobile on a flat car and rattle off to the Golden West painlessly a la piggy-back, going it on my own only after arrival at the points of interest, I shall write a crisp letter of criticism to every railroad president listed in "Who's Who."

Thoughts For Today

Once Over

By H. I. PHILLIPS

They're Off—For The Kiddies

Two Texas oil barons propose to buy six of the biggest race tracks in America and run them for the benefit of underprivileged boys. The goal is worthy, but the result could be an operation for overprivileged race tracks. It sounds something like operating a chain of night clubs and honky-tonks to aid deserving mothers. Or getting the better gambling clubs under one tent in the interest of the girls' clubs.

Horseracing is legal, is one of the top American sports and has some fine people associated with it, but it has never been accepted in the American home as a character builder, a public benefactor and Little Willie's best friend. The suggestion that the kiddies should now clap hands for it in anticipation of the day when they could say, "I owe everything I am to that two-dollar window" is meeting with something less than national cheers. It is hard to think of mommer ever saying, "I don't know how I would have raised Junior without those horse tracks, big gamblers, and men who take the money for baby's shoes and put it on the nose of a twenty-to-one shot."

Rockabye baby, in the tree top,
All will be well, think mommer and pop;
If things go bad, child, never be blue.
Horse tracks galore will look after you.

We view this with alarm. The small fry may grow up believing the bugler's "Boots and Saddles" is a companion tune to "Home, Sweet Home," that the starting-gate is a substitute for the door of opportunity and that the keystone of family welfare is to be found in the cry "They're off!"

A kid can come to manhood taught to associate the horse park with the Fairy Godmother, the Friend in Need and the Good Neighbor. With a chain of race tracks his benefactor it even will be possible for a youngster to ask mumsie, "To what track do I address my Santa Claus letters?" and chirp, "Mommer, the Jones boy told me Santa was not fit for the distance this year and was only a sprinter. Is that true?"

It seems to this column that it is just a step from the race track proposal, to a suggestion that bingo be organized to fight juvenile delinquency and that all the crapshooters in the country be put under one tent in a movement to see that baby gets plenty of cereals.

Don't get us wrong. It could be a great thing to use millions from race tracks to help the kids, but it still sounds odd at this point.

Clint Murchison and Sid Richards are oil barons with so much money they don't know what to do with it. (They just "bought" a big railroad to help underprivileged proxy holders.

They say 90 per cent of all money from the six race tracks would go to the children. While admitting this would be wonderful, we still can't picture George Washington's parents taking kindly to a suggestion that if he didn't turn out okay after the cherry-tree error the Manhattan Cocktail bottlers of the land would look after him. (And how would Lincoln's folks have reacted to the word, "Don't worry. The gamblers of America will pool Abe!")

Either this is a screwball age or we are a screwball thinker. Maybe both. But we want to be fair. Perhaps the idea of the $2 horse-player ever going broke for a good cause is not to be sneezed at. Maybe the best possible answer to "What's good?" is "The underprivileged kids of the U.S.A."

Basic Wealth

By GEORGE HUMPHREY

Victor Riesel is on his way to Europe to cover vital labor news breaking in that area. Today, while he is en route, George Humphrey, secretary of the Treasury is substituting for him as guest columnist.)

More and better jobs are something that we must have in America. We must have them for the good of all citizens in this growing economy. We must have them to provide the security of our nation.

What this administration has been trying to do and is determined to do is to help the economy make more and better jobs.

Now, what makes jobs? In the first place, somebody has to have an idea for a product which can be developed and sold and thus provide jobs for people making and selling the product.

For instance, who had heard of television, say 25 years ago? Very few of us. Somebody invented something. It resulted in a product which somebody thought could be sold. They went ahead and developed it and made it and then went out and sold it. This resulted in the growth of factories to produce television sets, stores throughout the country to retail them and all sorts of people selling and servicing the sets.

Hundreds of thousands of people thus have new and good jobs because of a product which wasn't even thought of by most people 25 years ago.

THE POINT is you couldn't sell a television set until somebody made one. You have to produce something in order to start the cycle which results in new and better jobs.

Now, why is it that we have such high wages as we do in America? There is a simple reason. Nobody over an extended period can get more than he can earn. High wages are possible in SHAVEN — Mrs. Alney Swigart of Newport, Ky., is planning divorce action against her husband after he allegedly shaved her head with a razor, leaving only stubby ends where once she had shoulder-length, blonde hair. Mrs. Swigart fled her home after the incident, screaming that her husband thought he was Hitler.

America only because individual productivity is being continually increased.

The American's hands are no better than the hands of a savage when it comes to producing things with just two hands. American hands can produce 10,000,000 times more than the hands of a savage because we have developed means of putting more power and tools into an American's hands.

Because of this power and these tools, the average American can produce so much more. Because he can produce more, he can earn more. Because he can earn more, he can have more of the things of good living.

And he can also provide the things which this country needs for its security.

The American can't have this greater power in his hands unless somebody has invested the money which will provide that power and, for most jobs, thousands of dollars worth of tools, and equipment.

For instance, a news reporter once told me that all he needed for his living was a lead pencil, a pad of paper, and the ability to ask questions.

LET'S SEE HOW wrong that is. Think of all that went into making that reporter's pencil and paper. Somebody had to cut trees in the forest. Somebody had to build pulp mills. Somebody had to build railroads to haul the products of the forests and the pulp mills in order to provide the paper on which the reporter wrote.

They also had to provide newsprint for the reporter's presses. Somebody had to build the factories which manufacture the presses and linotype machines which make printing possible.

Somebody had to provide the newspaper plant, the trucks and other means of transportation which carry the printed newspaper out to its readers.

The reporter had to have all those things back of him in order to get paid for what he wrote. Without these things, without the possible, the reporter writing his news story would not be worth much. He would earn very little, for there would be no market for his story.

That doesn't require the investment of large amounts of money. That is a cardinal point that every worker in America must remember when he is thinking about what is good for himself and his future.

We must think about this point particularly when we think about taxation and ways that taxes can be cut.

THE ADMINISTRATION'S tax program this year will make effective tax cuts totaling 7.4 billion dollars — the largest dollar tax cut in any year in the history of the nation.

So taxes have been cut for everybody in America, and cut very substantially. But even more important to an American than a tax cut, is his job and the prospect for a better job. The administration's tax program is going to help preserve and improve that job.

The only way to really have more and better jobs is to help people produce more and so earn more. Just stimulating consumption in any solid fashion. We discovered this with relief spending during the 1930s. (And in none of these years from 1933 to 1940 did unemployment go under the 7,000,000 mark.)

To really create more and better jobs, you also have to stimulate the people who buy heavy things to invest in projects to make goods. You have to stimulate the people who have saved and who will invest in projects to make heavy goods like generators and turbines and machinery and tools. It is money that somebody saved that buys these heavy goods — and new goods, like new factories to make new television sets, and new inventions of new products by the score that do not even exist today.

We need to stimulate more investment in America and incentive for invention, research, modernization and expansion of our economy all along the line.

This administration is determined to see that the basic things in America are allowed to live and grow so that the America of the future will not only be better but ever stronger.

Man Who Didn't Trust Banks Beaten, Robbed

CAMBRIDGE, Md. (AP) — Winnie M. Jones, 57, a frugal bachelor who made thousands of dollars crabbing and oyster tonging but didn't trust banks to keep it for him, was near death and penniless today.

Neighbors, who heard his cries for help early yesterday, found him lying in the kitchen of his neat four-room house at Bishop Head, 30 miles south of here. He had been savagely beaten.

Sheriff Waldo H. Robinson, who questioned Jones at the hospital during one of his rare periods of consciousness, said he told him he had been carrying between $5,000 and $6,000.

Oddity Almanac

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Leaves from an oddity almanac:

It is only people who are mentally half-dead themselves who complain, "opportunity is dead." Opportunity is timeless.

Take the case of Mrs. Annabelle McIntyre of Ligonier, Ind., who decided at 82 she ought to have a new hobby, and learned to make braided rugs. Ten years and 200 handmade rugs later she has turned her hobby into a tidy business, and at 92 she does her own shopping, cooking and housework, and is studiously determined to go on doing these things "as long as I live." How many teen-age girls in your neighborhood are that independent?

Almanac Conservation Department: What smokers do to themselves is one thing, but what they do to the forests remains a national disgrace. Forest fires last year dropped to a record low but still 154,000 forest fires burned over 9 million acres, and more than one out of every seven fires were started by careless smokers.

Bet You Didn't Know That; one way to lose weight is to go to the Equator, because of slightly lowered gravity a man who weighs 190 pounds at the north pole will be a pound lighter at the equator. The British have discovered a "paint of death" that will rid ships of cockroaches for as long as two years. Many schizophrenic (split personality) children often show a preference for toys that can be rotated or spun. But if that were the only test of a schizophrenic, every kid in town would have a split personality.

Time-Marches-On Dept: "Nothing ever changes," people say in a world that is changing as swiftly as they are. But look back just 20 years at a few things the world lacked that are now commonplace: Jet planes, nylon, television, penicillin. Our idea of a real old-timer is a guy who can remember when aspirin was a wonder drug.

Almanac Editorial: We have been informed by what we take to be a reliable source that the Sahara desert is creeping northward at the rate of 20 miles a year. (Or maybe it is 20 miles every century—we have mislaid the clipping.)

In any event we demand to know what Congress intends to do about this creeping African menace. Are our statesmen asleep at the switch? We pause for reply.

It's-A-Woman's-World Dept: The effort to relieve ladies from the strain of 20th century civilization never ceases. The latest feat of gallantry that has come to our attention involves a department store—Thalhimer Brothers, Inc., of Richmond, Va. It is now offering free showers to weary out-of-town lady shoppers.

CANADIAN CHAMPIONS TO COMPETE AGAINST TWO OTHER THRILL SHOWS

PLUS COMPLETE STOCK CAR RACE PROGRAM — CANFIELD FAIRGROUNDS

WEDNESDAY, JULY 28th, 8:30 P. M.

The Biggest Event of the whole 1954 Season will be the combined Stock Car Races and the International Auto Daredevil Contest which brings together three of the leading Auto Thrill Shows in competition for the 1954 World Championship — This will be a night of Smashing, Crashing, Wrecking and Racing. A total of 46 events will be on the two hour and a half program.

Three men, one from each show will roll automobiles end over end, to see which daredevil can roll the hardest, furthest and the most times. Three men from each show will leap a car 90 feet through the air and crash into seven parked cars also for the world title — and three men, one from each show will do every contestable stunt of the 33 Thrill Show events — you are in for more thrills, more spills and more speed than has ever been put on in one big combined show at the Canfield Fairgrounds, 8:30, Wednesday July 28th. (In case of rain-out the following Wednesday night)

Miss Lois Jean Clay Becomes Bride Of Bruce H. Peterson

Bruce Hamilton Peterson of Mt. Jewett, Pa., a paraplegic veteran of the Korean War, and Lois Jean Clay, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl I. Clay of RD 3, Canfield, pledged their vows Saturday afternoon at 2:30 in an impressive double ring ceremony performed in the Ellsworth Methodist Church.

Rev. Henry Hannsen, Methodist clergyman from Green Springs, officiated at the altar in the sanctuary where palms and white gladioli were combined in the setting.

The wedding music was played by Mrs. Helen Boyer of Canfield, and Mrs. Boyer accompanied Robert Zimmerman of Canfield, who sang "The Lord's Prayer," "Because" and "Always."

When the bride went to the altar, she was gown in white lace over net and satin. A crown of lace and seed pearls held her fingertip veil in place and she carried a colonial bouquet of pink and white carnations.

Miss Joan Clay was her sister's maid of honor in a yellow gown of net over taffeta. Her colonial bouquet contained deep pink and pink-edged white carnations.

As bridesmaid Mrs. Edward Brown of Canfield appeared in shrimp-colored net over taffeta and her bouquet was made of yellow, white and pink carnations.

Curtis Peterson of Mt. Jewett, Pa., was best man for his brother. Ushers were William Zimmerman and Paul Gretsinger of Salem.

The bride was graduated from Canfield High School. Her husband, the son of Mrs. Grace Peterson of Mt. Jewett, was recently discharged from Crile Veterans Hospital in Cleveland. The couple will make their home in Mt. Jewett.

Church Class Meets At Lippiatt Home

Mrs. Clarence Miller Jr. opened the meeting with prayer when the Willing Workers Class of the Millville Friendly Community Church met Friday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lippiatt of Ellsworth Ave.

Carl Lippiatt, who read scripture from the fifth chapter of Romans, also led the group in a Bible discussion.

The class members and their families enjoyed a hamburger fry and an informal social hour after the meeting, which was closed by prayer by Mrs. Raymond Ikert.

The class will meet again, Friday, Aug. 20.

Catholic Order Plans Celebration

The 444 Sisters of the Order of the Holy Humility of Mary, six of whom comprise the staff of St. Paul Church and School here, will celebrate their centenary at a mass Monday, July 26, at 10:30 a.m. at the Villa Maria Convent at Villa Maria, Pa.

Rev. Fr. J. Gaffney of St. Paul will serve as chaplain to Auxiliary Bishop Colman Carroll of Pittsburgh. Bishop John Dearden of Pittsburgh will be celebrant of the mass, assisted by Msgr. William S. Nash and Rev. Fr. James P. McLaughlin.

The six sisters here, who will attend, are Sisters M. Carmella, St. Paul School principal; M. Veronica, M. Conrad, Martha Ann, M. Innocentia and M. Martha. They are six of 179 Sisters of the order who staff schools and hospitals in the Youngstown diocese, including Canton Central High School, various grade schools and St. Joseph and St. Elizabeth Hospitals.

Mother M. Lorita, 10th general superior of the Sisters of the Holy Humility of Mary is head of the sisters in this diocese.

Of the hierarchy attending will be Bishop Emmet M. Walsh of Youngstown; Archbishop Edward F. Hoban, Auxiliary Bishops Floyd L. Begin and John J. Krol, all of Cleveland.

Church Group Hears Patrolman Kanagy

Twenty-eight members of the Salem Christian Church attended the county meeting of the Christian Men's Fellowship Friday night at the Hanoverton Christian Church.

Women of the church served a chicken supper to the 71 in attendance, and a short business meeting followed.

State Highway Patrolman Norman Kanagy gave a talk on "Safety on the Highway."

The next county meeting will be Friday, Oct. 15 in Wellsville. Friday, Aug. 20, is the date set for the next local meeting of the Fellowship.

Miss Janice Hazlett Becomes Bride Of Clifford O. Boals

An Alliance girl, Miss Janice Hazlett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Hazlett of Bonnieview Blvd., there, and Clifford O. Boals, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde O. Boals of Kensington, who were married Saturday, will return Aug. 1 from their honeymoon motor trip through Michigan, Illinois and Indiana to make their home at RD 5, Salem.

Mr. Hazlett gave his daughter in marriage in the single ring service performed by Rev. Herbert Massey of the East Palestine Methodist Church. Rev. John Vant, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, where the ceremony occurred at 7:30 p.m. in Stephens Chapel, assisted.

Tall tapers in branched beribboned candelabra lighted the setting and ferns and palms were used at the altar.

The traditional wedding melodies were played by Leroy Abegglen, and he was accompanist for the soloist, James Dorman of Alliance, who sang, "I Love You Truly," "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Costumed in white nylon embroidered eyelet over taffeta, the bride's waltz gown was styled with Peter Pan collar. Complimenting accessories were pink and white and her colonial bouquet contained pink roses. She wore a pink flower and pearl half-hat and her lace mitts were white.

Mrs. George Rogers was matron of honor in a waltz gown of powder blue lace designed on princess lines. Her white lace hat was embroidered with rhinestones and she wore lace mitts. Yellow roses were arranged in her colonial bouquet.

Willard Hillyer of Kensington was best man and Thomas Leek of Salineville, cousin of the bride, was the usher.

Mrs. Hazlett, in aqua lace with aqua and white accessories, wore a corsage of deep red carnations. Mrs. Boals, in navy blue with pink accessories, wore pink carnations.

A memory candle, scented with lily-of-the-valley, the center feature of the reception table appointments, lighted the tiered pink and white wedding cake, which was topped with a miniature bouquet copied after the bride's bouquet.

The bride, a graduate of Alliance High School, is a member of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority. She is employed in the law office of Geiger and France in Alliance.

Mr. Boals was graduated from Augusta High School and Salem Business College and also attended Asbury College. He is an accountant at the Eljer Co. here.

Miss Ada Dolores Sturgell Is Bride Of James K. Orr

A corsage of red roses complemented the blue net-over-taffeta costume worn by Miss Ada Dolores Sturgell at her wedding to James Kenneth Orr Saturday at 2 p.m. in the Salem Church of the Nazarene.

Rev. E. M. Parks, church pastor, officiated at the service in the sanctuary. The bride, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Sturgell of RD

Miss Lola Jean Cady Becomes Bride Of Delmar Palmer Jr.

Seven branch candelabra lighted the setting of pompons and ferns enhanced with vases of white gladioli for the wedding of Miss Lola Jean Cady and Delmar R. Palmer Jr., which took place Saturday morning in St. Paul Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lyman L. Cady of Berlin Center, and the bridegroom is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Delmar R. Palmer, Sr. of Erie, Pa.

Rev. Fr. Cyril Fisher, O. P., of Chicago, performed the double ring ceremony at the communion rail, where the bride was given in marriage by her father.

Miss Sarah Colman presided at the organ for the nuptial music.

The bride's princess gown of white lace over satin, trimmed at the square neckline and hem with tulle, was designed with long pointed sleeves and a modified train. She wore a fingertip veil attached to a circlet of iridescent petals and pearls, and she carried a colonial bouquet of white roses and stephanotis. The pearl earrings she wore were a gift from the bridegroom.

Miss Ismae Ellis of New Orleans, La., was maid of honor. She was dressed in a ballerina length gown of blue net and satin with jacket. Yellow roses and pompons fashioned her colonial bouquet.

George E. Palmer of Erie served as best man for his brother, and Edwin J. Renchel of Erie and Victor Zerbs Jr. of Salem ushered.

The bride's mother was attired in a blue and white print with white accessories and she wore a red rose corsage. Mrs. Palmer wore a dusty rose chiffon with matching hat and black accessories. Her outfit was complemented with a white rose corsage.

A reception for 50 guests from Akron, North Benton, Cuyahoga Falls, Canton, Youngstown, Berlin Center, Salem and Erie, Pa., was held at the bride's home.

An arrangement of garden flowers and candles decorated the refreshment table which featured a three-tiered wedding cake decked with roses.

The bride, a graduate of Salem City Hospital School of Nursing, is employed as office nurse by a local physician. Her husband, a graduate of Gannan College at Erie, served three years in the Air Force and now has a commission in the Air Force Reserves. He is an engineering aid with the National Advisory Committee on Aeronautics in Cleveland.

After the wedding trip to Ontario, Canada, the couple will reside temporarily in Berlin Center.

For traveling, the new Mrs. Palmer wore a tan sundress of Italian cotton with a matching jacket. Her accessories were white and she wore a red rose corsage.

WCTUGroup Holds Picnic At Guilford

Miss Josephine Dunn, president, gave the welcome when the Winona Woman's Christian Temperance Union sponsored a picnic dinner Thursday at Guilford Lake Park.

In the group were four members of the Damascus Union, Mrs. Lydia Miles, president; Mrs. Marguerite Borton, a past county president. Mrs. William Taibott and Mrs. Kerr, and Miss Pearl Walker of the Salem Union.

Devotions were conducted by Mrs. Ruby Geary of the Winona Union and Mrs. Borton. Mrs. Charles F. Cunningham, who heads the fruit juice department of the Winona Union, "glamorized" the fruit juice served with mint leaves and red raspberries.

Mrs. Donald Mayhew of Winona, president of the county union, gave a water demonstration, using a profusion of greenery and flowers around the "well." Mrs. Mayhew also stressed the importance of sending petitions and letters to Congress relative to passing the Bryson Bill, which aims to prohibit the advertising of liquor by television, radio and magazines.

Miss Walker, county director of Christian Citizenship and Legislation, gave a report on a conference of WCTU state directors held in connection with a workshop at Columbus. She also told of local activities in this department of the work and concluded her talk with a reading entitled, "The Single Head of Wheat."

The county union will furnish a treat for the family at the county infirmary on Sunday afternoon, July 25, with the Salem union directing the program.

A county picnic and institute will be held Thursday, July 29, at the East Palestine City Park, in charge of Mrs. Mayhew. The 80th anniversary of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union will be celebrated at the national convention Sept. 16-21 in Lexington, Ky.

Officers Are Elected At McMillan Reunion

The 40th annual reunion of the descendants of Lee and Lou McMillan took place Sunday, June 20, at Willow Grove Park in Lisbon, with 86 relatives from Salem, Lisbon, Columbiana, Signal, Leetonia and New Waterford.

Clyde McMillan of Leetonia was elected president; Mrs. Lloyd McMillan of RD 5, Lisbon, secretary, and Miss Delia McMillan of Salem, treasurer.

The oldest member of the family present was Clarence McMillan of Lisbon, and the youngest, the two and a half month old child of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd McMillan.

The reunion next year will be the same time and place.

Struthers Girl To Wed Salem Man

A nuptial High Mass will be sung in St. Nicholas Church in Struthers for the marriage of Miss Margaret Palatas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Palatas of Struthers, and Louis C. Ospeck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Ospeck of 837 Arch St.

The couple have set Saturday, Aug. 21, as their wedding date and the custom of open church will be observed for the service at 10 a.m. Friends and relatives are invited to the reception from 1:30 to 4 p.m. at Colony House, on the Youngstown-Poland Rd.

Announcement of the engagement and the forthcoming wedding was made today by Miss Palatas' parents.

The bride-to-be attended Youngstown College and is a journalist, serving on the "Bulletin" staff of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co.

Mr. Ospeck, who assisted in designing the Centennial Park swimming pool, is a graduate of Case Institute of Technology and also attended the School of Engineering of Youngstown College. A lieutenant during World War II who served in the Pacific theater, Mr. Ospeck is a registered professional engineer employed by the Deming Co.

Indians Split With Nats To Lose, Then Regain First Place

Rosen Smacks 15th Home Run

Wynn To Oppose Shea In Washington Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—Cleveland's Indians dropped out of first place for three hours yesterday but then bounced back on a come-from-behind double by Bobby Avila and Al Rosen's first home run for the Tribe since June 23.

Washington dumped the Tribe, 8-3, in the opener of the double-header and the New York Yankees climbed into an undisputed hold on the league lead for the first time this year by beating Detroit.

The world champs held their half-game lead in the pennant race for just two hours and 58 minutes. Then Detroit's Tigers snapped their 13-game winning streak while the Indians were defeating the Nats, 7-4.

Rosen, who broke the index finger of his right hand May 25 while fielding a hot grounder, smacked his 15th home run of the year for the Indians in the second game's first inning with Avila on base. The ball went 400 feet into center field and the third baseman rounded the bases before it could be thrown in.

He hit two four-base blows against the National League in the All-Star Game last Tuesday, but those don't count for the record books.

Avila's double scored George Strickland and Wally Westlake in the seventh and gave the Tribe a 5-4 lead it never gave up. Strickland had singled and Westlake had walked.

Strickland singled in the fifth, advanced on a pinch single by Hank Majeski and scored as Al Smith grounded out.

The Indians' other two runs in the second game were in the eighth when Rosen singled, Billy Glynn doubled and Jim Hegan tripled.

Washington chased Bob Lemon from the mound and scored four runs in the fourth but was held scoreless the rest of the way by Don Mossi and Hal Newbouser. Mossi got credit for the victory, his fourth against one loss.

For the Nats in that big inning, Mickey Vernon walked, there were singles by Jim Busby, Tom Umpshett and Jerry Snyder, and then Maurice McDermott doubled.

The Nats got four runs in the first inning of the first game too, chasing Art Houtteman who was charged with the loss. Eddie Yost and Vernon doubled, Johnny Pesky and Ed Fitzgerald singled and Busby and Snyder drew walks.

Yost hit his 10th home run in the second, and the other Nats runs came in the fourth, fifth and sixth innings, one at a time.

Cleveland's only tallies in the first game were in the first and third. In the first, Smith walked, advanced on Avila's single and finally scored on a fly by Rosen. In the third, Smith singled and Avila doubled—Smith scoring on a fly by Doby and Avila on a single by Rosen.

Early Wynn pitches for Cleveland today against Washington's Spec Shea. Wynn, who has won 11 and lost five, has a 2-1 record against Washington. Shea lost twice to the Indians.

Oldenberg Wins 100-Lap Event

In one of the most sensational auto races ever staged at the Canfield Speedway, Don Oldenberg of Highland, Ill., won the 100-lap late model feature before 8,172 fans. A blow-out cost hard-driving Bob Pringer of Blue Island, Ill., the victory. Pronger started 18th in the 24-car field and drove his blue 1954 Cadillac into the lead on the 38th turn.

He had a flat on his left rear wheel on the 89th lap and had to drop out.

Oldenberg held the lead across the finish line with Tony Flock of Decatur, Ga., and Jimmy Romine of Youngstown finishing in the second and third spots respectively.

Speedway manager Charlie Findlay has set the next late model event for Aug. 14. Pronger, along with many other MARC and SAFE drivers, will again be back for action on the quarter-mile Canfield oval.

Boros Trips Fazio To Win At Manakiki

By FRITZ HOWELL

CLEVELAND (AP)—Golf's touring brigade had a new money-won leader today, big Julius Boros stepping out from yesterday as he picked up the $5,000 top prize in the 72-hole Manakiki Open.

Boros defeated George Fazio, Pine Valley, N. J., veteran, in an extra-hole playoff to pick up the heavy end of the $25,000 purse. They had tied at 280, eight under par, as series of last-round misfortunes swept aside the other contenders.

The $5,000 fee moved Boros up to $15,120 for the year, jumping him into the lead over Dr. Cary Midgloff's $13,883. Boros, ineligible for this week's PGA Tournament at St. Paul despite the fact he won the 1952 National Open, said his next tournament start would be at Kansas City.

The big 34-year-old club-slinger from Southern Pines, N. C., and Fazio were leaders at the end of the 72-hole chase over this hilly and heavily-forested 6,651-yard course.

Boros finished with 71-70-68-71 and Fazio had 72-66-72-70 for their 280's.

Boros won on the first hole of the playoff with a par when Fazio's second shot skidded into a trap and he came out short. Jerry Barber, Bo Wynn and Tommy Bolt were a stroke back at 281, Fred Haas had the 282 spot all to himself, and tied at 283 were Paul McGuire of Wichita, Tex., Roberto De Vincenzo of Argentina, Milton Marquis of Herkimer, N. Y., and Dutch Harrison of St. Louis.

Goshen's Coach Takes Poland Post

Goshen Union's football coach since 1951, William S. Van Brocklin, has been named new football coach at Poland High School, it was announced this week by I. S. Lindman, principal.

Van Brocklin replaces Frank Davanzo. He is a 1950 graduate of Miami U. of Ohio and took the job at Goshen upon graduation in 1951.

His first squad at Goshen lost all eight contests. In 1952 they came back to win six, lose one and tie one. Last year they came up with the same record.

Van Brocklin was graduated from Canfield High School where he played both football and basketball.

Pompey To Fight Ward On Wednesday

NEW YORK (AP)—Yolande Pompey, the man from Trinidad whose name sounds like the first line of a Calypso tune, makes his first U.S. start Wednesday at Chicago Stadium against Moses Ward of Detroit.

For three years, Pompey has been attracting attention in Britain, knocking out the late Dave Sands, fighting a draw with Jimmy Slade, and beating Slade in a rematch. He is ranked fifth among the light-heavy challengers although he may campaign as a middleweight after a few American fights.

TV fans get their first look at Chris Christensen, the Danish welter champ, in a 10-round match with Billy Graham at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway tonight. Christensen lost his only U.S. start, to Billy Lauderdale.

Al Andrews of Superior, Wis., and Sauveur Chiochea of France top the St. Nicholas Arena card (Du Mont-TV) with a welterweight 10-rounder tonight.

Stanky, Moore Fight In Field

Cards Forfeit Tilt; Whitesox Win Pair

By JACK HAND
AP Sports Writer

Eddie Stanky, scrappy manager of the St. Louis Cards, boils on the hot seat today after a fist fight with Terry Moore, the man he fired as coach, and a forfeiture to the Phillies for delaying tactics.

Stanky and Moore, new manager of Philadelphia, tangled in the midst of one of St. Louis' worst ball field riots in years yesterday to climax a flaming two-year-old feud.

After Moore was fired in 1952, he departed from his normal mild ways to blast Stanky. "When he loses a ball game he acts more like a 9-year-old boy than a manager," he said. "The job is too big for him. Stanky is temperamentally unsuited for the job of manager."

Fireworks were expected when Moore, named manager Thursday, met Stanky's Cards for the first time. It happened yesterday at Busch Stadium and they're still picking up the pieces. It was the first forfeiture since 1949.

Coming from behind three times the Phils pulled out the first game 11-10 in 10 innings on a double by Smokey Burgess and a single by Bobby Morgan. The game had been delayed 1 hour and 18 minutes by rain in the seventh.

The second game didn't start until after 6 p.m., so lights could not be turned on under National League rules. With darkness approaching in the fifth and the Phils leading 8-1 with one man on base and two out, Stanky had brought in two new pitchers and had waved for a third when umpire Babe Pinelli walked to the field telephone and notified the press box that the game was forfeited to Philadelphia 9-0. No individual records go into the book because the legal five innings weren't completed.

Stanky protested the game, claiming Pinelli had exceeded his authority. "Any delay prior to the forfeit including free-for-all was precipitated by members of the Philadelphia club," he said in a telegram to National League President Warren Giles.

Catcher Sal Yvars of the Cards and first baseman Earl Torgeson of the Phils touched off the big battle when they argued and squared off. The two players were old enemies, dating back to a free-for-all in Boston in 1952 over a broken bat when Yvars was with New York and Torgeson with the Braves.

Moore, ex-Cardinal great, tumbled out of the dugout and grabbed Yvars. Then Stanky tackled Moore. Moore came up with a dirty face and scratches on his neck. Stanky has a mouse under his right eye and a scratch on his neck. Players from both teams were on the field, punching and wrestling before police broke it up and escorted the men off the field.

The day's fistic action vied for attention with the pennant races. Cleveland still leads the American by half a game. Both the Indians and New York Yankees split double-headers. The Yanks went out front briefly, for the first time since April 22, by winning the first from Detroit 6-0 on Harry Byrd's five-hitter, while Washington was thumping Cleveland 8-3. Cleveland rebounded into the lead by winning its second game 7-4 as the Yanks' 13-game winning streak was snapped by Detroit 8-6.

Chicago's White Sox took a pair from the feeble Philadelphia Athletics 10-2 and 4-3. The Boston Red Sox shut out Baltimore 4-0 on a one-hitter by Russ Kemmerer in his first major league start but the Orioles won the second game 4-1 on Duane Pillette's five-hit pitching.

In the National, New York split two at Cincinnati, losing 14-4 in the first game and winning 3-1 on Willie Mays' 33rd homer, and Monte Irvin's 17th. As Brooklyn thumped Chicago 12-6 on homers by Roy Campanella, Duke Snider and Carl Furillo, the Giants lead was clipped to six games.

Milwaukee had to settle for an even break with the last-place Pittsburgh Pirates. Warren Spahn needed help from Ernie Johnson to hold the first game 4-1 but the Pirates scored six runs in the second inning on the way to a 7-5 victory in the second game.

Stock Driver Killed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Stock car driver Ned Tomlinson, 30, of Lima died yesterday of injuries received Saturday during a pileup of racers at nearby Powell Speedway. Track officials said Tomlinson served to avoid hitting another car when a tire blew out. Tomlinson's 1932 coupe and two other stock cars crashed. All drivers were strapped in their models for safety. Tomlinson died at University Hospital early yesterday.

McDERMOTT HAS TROUBLE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Maurice McDermott, an 18-game winner with the Boston Red Sox last year, is having trouble winning with the Washington Senators this season. The lanky southpaw, acquired by the Nats over the winter, has lost seven consecutive games. McDermott bowed to the Cleveland Indians 7-4 yesterday to run his season's record to 5-11.

Little League Stars Tilt Set

To Play E. Liverpool Team On July 26

The Salem Little League All-Star squad meets its first test of playoff strength next Monday night, July 26, when the locals meet the East Liverpool Americans at 6 p.m. at Millnar Field in Pleasant Heights.

The winner of this area will play the winner of area A at Campbell on August 3. The winners of areas B and D will also meet at Campbell Aug. 3 with the finals slated for Aug. 4 at the Campbell Little League Field.

The locals drew East Liverpool at the Area C drawings Friday night in East Palestine held under the direction of J. Russell Biggins, assistant director of this area.

Other teams in Salem's area are Youngstown West, Youngstown South, Austintown, Tri-City, East Liverpool Americans, East Liverpool Nationals and East Palestine.

Youngstown South is expected by most to be just as strong as they were last year when they knocked the locals out of the district elimination.

Al Catlos and Ralph Mancuso will manage the Little Leaguers. The 14-man All-Star squad features a good pitching staff and also a powerful hitting attack.

Bob Leggett Wins Medal Play At Salem Club

Bob Leggett won the weekend medal play tournament at the Salem Golf Club with an 18-hole score of 63. Bill Ferguson was second with a 67 and Jim Wingard and Walt Hiltbrand tied for third with 68's.

George Aaronson and Lester Bateman shot the best nine hole scores of their golfing careers yesterday, 44's, according to the club pro Vince Leskosky.

Salem Whips N. Springfield 15-3 On Wyss's Three-Hitter

The Salem Merchants retained their slim two-game league lead over the East Liverpool Riverview Florists Sunday as the locals trounced New Springfield 15-3 behind the three-hit pitching of Dick Wyss.

Salem now leads the county baseball league with 17 wins and three losses. The second place Riverview squad has 15 wins and five losses.

Pony League All-Stars Begin Drive Tonight

The Salem Pony League All-Stars open their bid for the Area 8 championship tonight at 6 when they meet the Canton All-Stars at Harrisburg Field just east of Canton on Route 62.

The squad under its managers Pete Sanders and Henry Meissner held workouts all last week in preparation for the game.

Other squads in the area seeing action tonight are East Liverpool, Bridgeport, Canton, Martins Ferry, Mingo Junction, Toronto and Tiltonsville.

Jim Barnes led the Salem attack with four hits in four trips to the plate. Wyss helped his own cause getting three hits in four times at bat as did Lease.

The Grady-Odom-coached Merchants bagged Springfield pitcher John Morey for 16 hits. Both clubs had two errors.

New Springfield led off with one run in the top of the first and the Merchants came back in their half of the initial frame with two runs. Salem got one in the second, three in the third, two in the fourth and seven in the fifth inning.

East Liverpool downed East Palestine 8-5 Sunday.

Wednesday night the locals go to New Springfield while the Pot-ers take on Lisbon.

U.S. Retards Ohio's Low-Rent Housing Pace

WASHINGTON — The low-rent public housing program, whose immediate future is clouded by a deadlock in Congress has found the legislative going tough before. A Congressional Quarterly check shows that the program has fallen 75 per cent short of the goal which Congress set in 1949.

In that year, Congress authorized construction of 810,000 new public housing dwelling units over six years at the rate of 135,000 units a year. With the end of the six-year period nearing, 75 per cent of these low-rent units are non-existent. As of April 30, 1954 this was the status of the program:

Units authorized, 1949	810,000
Units built	146,000
Units contracted for	59,000
Remainder, under 1949 Act	605,000

Congress is responsible for the gap between low-rent housing units authorized and the number computed limits on annual public housing construction that have been far short of either the initial 135,000 authorization or presidential requests. A comparison of these limits with administration requests:

	Requested (Truman)	Authorized
1951	75,000 units	50,000 units
1952	75,000 units	35,000 units
1953	75,000 units	20,000 units
1954	35,000 units	???

President Eisenhower's request this year was for 35,000 units annually over a four-year period, and this 140,000-unit program is at the center of the congressional problem. The House rejected the plan, but the Senate voted to include the president's public housing program in the omnibus housing bill.

The government's slum-clearance and low-rent public housing program dates back to 1937, but it wasn't until 1949 that it was put on a large-scale postwar basis. The Public Housing Administration also conducts programs involving housing for war workers and military personnel, public housing in critical defense areas, and temporary re-use housing for veterans and their families.

PHAs in Ohio
This table shows the total number of active public housing projects and dwelling units owned or supervised by the PHA as of Dec. 31, 1953, and the number of these projects and units in Ohio.

Total program projects	2,925	93
Dwelling units	650,475	31,462
Low-rent units	455,207	19,115
War housing units	175,915	10,575
Defense housing units	13,156	750
Veterans re-use units	14,118	982

The total for low-rent units includes both those constructed under the 1949 program and under other federal programs.

Kitchen, Bathroom Good Places To Modernize

In the first half of 1954, two-thirds of all American families own one or more automobiles and half of all families have television sets, according to the Federal Reserve Board survey of consumer finances conducted by the University of Michigan.

More than half of all American non-farm families own their own homes with more than 50 per cent of them being free of mortgage debt. These are the people who this year will spend many millions of dollars in remodeling and modernizing their homes.

Among the first places that most definitely date the house are the kitchen and the bathroom. But these are the rooms that are perhaps the easiest of all to modernize to make them as attractive as similar rooms in the latest house on any street in the United States.

Such materials as prefinished wallpanels that now come in a wide variety of patterns, ranging from plain colors to lined and tile patterns and even marble and woodgrain, are designed for the handy man who wants to do his own modernizing work.

May Building 'Phenomenal'

Contract Awards Total $2 Billion In East

May contract awards for future construction in 37 eastern states totalling $1,925,253 were termed "phenomenal" by Thomas S. Holden, vice chairman of the F. W. Dodge Corp., in a recent talk before the American Institute of Architects in Boston.

The May figures were 14 per cent ahead of April and 20 per cent above May a year ago.

May had the highest monthly total in Dodge's 63-year history which started here in Boston, Holden commented, "if we omit the huge Atomic Energy Commission projects which brought the totals for some individual past months to suddenly swollen sizes. New records set are, in my opinion phenomenal."

"On this basis, with the AEC projects eliminated, leaving only the normal run-of-the-mill construction commitments, May was seven per cent ahead of the second biggest month, October, 1953, which in turn was one per cent ahead of the third biggest month, July, 1953."

"EVEN WITH Atomic Energy projects included for past months May was the third biggest month in the totals, led only by May, 1951, and by September, 1952. There were no exceptionally big projects to swell the May total."

"In addition to the great confidence shown over many recent months, by people making enormous commitments for construction investment, an underlying reason for the continued high level of the figures is wider use of the skill of the architect."

"Buildings of recent design by architects today are so much better and more efficient than projects of only a few years ago, that many people are impelled or even compelled to build anew. The architect has come into his own as a major factor in American working and living."

THE RECORD for the first five months of 1954 was broken by a $7,517,885,000 total, 11 per cent ahead of 1953's first five months, and 2 per cent ahead of the second highest period, in 1951, which included a $980,000,000 Atomic Energy project.

With benefit of the $980,000,000 Atomic Energy project, May, 1951 remained the highest May and the highest of any month in history. But even against that fact, May, 1954, was the second highest May in history.

May's nonresidential total was $672,288,000 up 11 per cent above April; 16 per cent above May, 1953.

May's residential total was $825,300,000 up 4 per cent over April and 29 per cent over May, 1953. This set a new high for any month in the residential classification.

MAY'S PUBLIC works and utilities classification, totaled $427,650,000 up 27 per cent over April and 11 per cent over May, 1953. This set a new high for May.

Holden emphasized that the May projects are for future construction to be in progress for months ahead.

Q — What kind of fastener is made to secure a 2x4 to a concrete floor for erecting a partition?

A — Lead expansion anchors and lag screws should be used for this purpose. Use screws and anchor the same size — as a 3-16-inch screw in a 3-16-inch anchor. Drill hole for anchor in concrete with star drill same size as outside diameter of the anchor. Tap anchor in hole and it's ready to receive lag screw.

CONSTRUCTION ECONOMY has given the split level, such as the design shown here, its widespread popularity. With bedrooms half a flight up from the living room wing, the garage is accommodated under the bedroom wing with a ground floor recreation room and terrace behind the garage. Open cellar with laundry and heating plant is located under the living room wing. This is Plan Y-327 by Herman York, architect, 90-04 161st St., Jamaica 2, N.Y. The house has 1,900 square feet of habitable floor space.

Keep Fix-It Eye On Outside Walls Of Frame Homesteads

The majority of wood-frame houses have exterior walls covered with wood siding, shingles or wallboard. Regular inspection and maintenance of these coverings is essential if they are to be long-lived.

Summertime being outdoors time, it is a good time to meander around the homestead for a look-see at how its exterior walls are holding up under continued exposure to the elements.

Since the various covering materials demand different maintenance procedures, let's review a few of them.

Wood Siding — If siding and trim were closely fitted and window and door caps were properly flashed when the house was built, there should be little need for exterior repair or maintenance other than painting every three to five years.

However, if moisture has been allowed to penetrate the walls, either from within the house or from without, siding and structural members are likely to rot, and exterior paint is sure to blister and scale off.

Therefore, it is important to replace defective siding and trim with new; sheet-metal flashings should be installed over windows and doors, and joints between siding and trim should be sealed with calking compound. Scaled and blistered paint should be removed and bare wood primed and repainted.

Shingles — Wood shingles and asbestos-cement shingles are the more commonly used type. Wood shingles, on the one hand, can be repaired if damaged slightly; asbestos shingles, on the other, need to be replaced, if damaged at all — for appearance's sake.

A wood shingle which has become loosened or only slightly damaged should be nailed after a piece of tar paper or sheet metal has been slipped under it.

Extensively damaged wood shingles or damaged asbestos shingles should be removed with a nail ripper or shingle hook. This tool is inserted under a shingle until its blade catches a nail. A sharp hammer blow cuts the nail, making shingles removal and replacement easy. In removing as-

Excellent Care Means Top Tomato Yield

By HENRY PREE

A good way to get a crop from your tomato vines is to give them the best early care possible. To plant them in early spring and then neglect cultivating, such as weeding and spraying is to borrow trouble.

Right now some gardeners are disturbed because of the failure of the blossoms to set fruit.

Tomato plants often fail to set a normal crop of fruit because of the dropping of the blossoms that occurs at about the time flowers are fully developed. This loss of blossoms often causes a serious reduction in yield.

A number of environmental factors probably are concerned in causing blossom drop, but this trouble appears to be particularly prevalent when the soil moisture is low and plants are subjected to hot, drying winds.

Sudden periods of cool weather or beating rains also may interfere with the proper development and fertilization of the blossoms, and excessive applications of nitrogenous fertilizers may be responsible for dropping.

Loss of blossoms also results from infection by parasitic bacteria or fungi, such as those causing early blight, septoria leaf spot, and bacterial spot.

Since blossom drop is largely the result of unfavorable climatic conditions, there often is little that can be done to control it. Where watering is possible, the soil moisture should not be allowed to become low during the periods of very hot weather.

Excessive soil moisture also should be avoided. Plants should be so fertilized as to maintain a thrifty condition, but should not be supplied with an excessive amount of fertilizers high in nitrogen.

The Boyce Thompson Institute for Plant Research has discovered even under ideal fruit setting weather only 82 per cent of tomato flowers produce fruit. If the recent weather has been unfavorable it might be a wise move on the part of the home gardener to take advantage of plant hormones which, when sprayed on the flowers, more or less insure fruit.

The hormone fertilis and stimulates the fruit-producing organs of the flower with favorable results. And, strange as it may seem, the tomatoes are seedless, larger, heavier and the acid content will be less. Just spray into the face of each flower as soon as it opens. Do not spray on the whole plant. This plant hormone is sold under various trade names, and may be obtained at the better garden supply shops.

Tomatoes, if staked and trained to single stems, need considerable pruning during the summer to achieve the result desired. This pruning consists of pinching out with thumb and forefinger all lateral shoots as fast as they form. But care must be taken to avoid removing the flower clusters or no fruit will be formed. In the case of untrained tomatoes no pruning is needed.

37 PER CENT HEAT LOSS

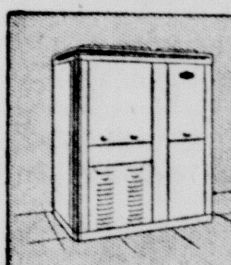

Air entering through non-weatherstripped windows may account for approximately 37 per cent of the total heat loss from a typical five-room, well insulated home, according to studies by a Research Institute.

Mortgage Applications Gain In June

Applications for Federal Housing Administration mortgage insurance on more than 55,000 dwelling units were filed with FHA field offices during June, FHA Acting Commissioner Norman P. Mason announced today. "Last month's volume is a healthy sign," Mason said. It seems to be indicative of an ample supply of mortgage money and a building industry geared to production. "Stricter requirements in FHA's administrative policies have now been in effect three months and the large volume of applications, it was pointed out, seems to indicate industry approval of greater vigilance in seeing that the American home buying public is protected. The June volume of FHA applications showed the first year-to-year gain since June, 1933. The applications for mortgage insurance received by field offices last month surpassed by more than 20 per cent the number of dwelling units involved in the applications filed during the same month a year ago.

An all-time high record was reflected in the low cost home applications under Section 8 with more than 6,000 dwelling units involved. Under the principal home mortgage insurance program (Section 203) the volume was the highest it has been in 15 months. Included in the applications filed were more than 5,000 units in multi-family projects for rent or cooperative ownership.

Despite the exclusion of luxury items from Title I insured financing early in the month, more than 150,000 home improvement loans were reported for insurance, exceeding the May volume.

Richard Amon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Amon, returned home after serving in the U. S. Army overseas.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hagan of Canton were Friday callers of Mr. and Mrs. James Hagan.

Build Pool In Your Own Backyard

Backyard swimming pools no longer are a monopoly of the movie stars. You can find them in most any neighborhood. Of course, you can find headaches attributed to them, too, if you ask the man who owns one. But that is one of the advantages of gossip about houses and their equipment—you can learn when to go ahead and build something, or when not to.

Building a swimming pool seems simple—just a concrete-lined hole in the ground, like a little basement. We saw an article in a current magazine, telling how one man built a 20 by 40-foot pool for less than $400. About the same time we got an advertisement in the mail from a contractor who would build one that size for $1,775. Even that is cheap if the pool would be satisfactory.

IT TAKES a lot of material to build a pool properly. In the first place, excavation for a 20 by 40-foot pool will mean the removal of 300 cubic yards of soil. Forms for the pouring of concrete will total 1,420 square feet. You'll need 3,130 pounds of reinforcing steel and 420 pounds of steel mesh. The concrete for the walls and footings will total 42 cubic yards and the concrete for the floor will mean 15 more cubic yards. In addition, you'll probably use 180 linear feet of drainage tile.

There's your bill of materials. CROSS SECTION diagram showing recommended depths for a private swimming pool. Concrete footings are indicated. Professional engineering is recommended.

Quizzing the Gardener

Q—Can you tell me why peonies transplanted early this spring failed to bloom? Buds appeared but they did not develop. Plants are healthy looking.

A—Peonies need to be moved in the fall in order to give them time

We got it from Portland Cement Assn. engineers, who ought to know.

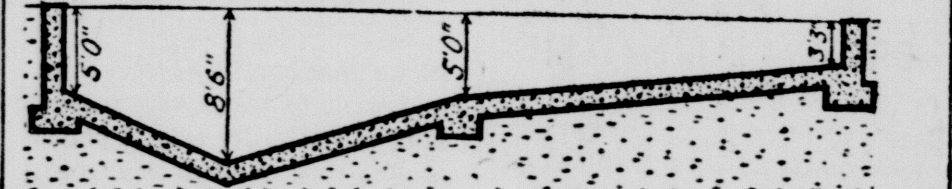

These quantities," they said, are for the pool only. Sidewalks, expansion joints, equipment, plumbing, water purification, etc., should be added as required."

THE PROBLEM of water purification is something to consider if you don't have unlimited supplies of water for refilling the pool every couple of days. One of our neighbors recently had a pool completed in his yard. Somebody asked one of his youngsters if they had used it yet. No, not yet, for two reasons," he replied. One is that pop hasn't got the chlorinating system yet and another reason is there are two dead rats in there."

But draining and refilling, or continuous purification of the water seem to be only part of the story. Experts in a position to know say that a private swimming pool which will stand an engineering analysis frequently is too expensive to build.

Many pools have been built which cannot be justified from an engineering standpoint," these men admit. Some of them have given good satisfaction, while others have been a source of considerable trouble. The pools which we can conscientiously recommend from an engineering standpoint are often too expensive for the small backyard pool."

However, there are dozens of reputable contractors in this business, especially in the South and on the West Coast. So if you can get a guarantee, get ready to try that springboard.

Quizzing the Gardener

Q—Can you tell me why peonies transplanted early this spring failed to bloom? Buds appeared but they did not develop. Plants are healthy looking.

A—Peonies need to be moved in the fall in order to give them time to become established.

Q—What is the analysis of sulphate of ammonia? Of superphosphate?

A—Sulphate of ammonia, all nitrogen fertilizer, reads 20-0-0. Superphosphate, with a 0-20-0 analysis, is one of the chief sources of phosphorus.

Q—What is the purpose of pinching marigolds, zinnias and other annuals? Pinching was recommended by the florist.

A—Pinching back young annuals makes them bush out and thus produce more bloom. To pinch remove two inches or more of the tip growth with the thumbnail and forefinger.

Q—An overdose of fertilizer around some of our roses apparently has caused loss of much foliage. What can we do to overcome this?

A—The best way to get rid of the surplus is to be most generous when watering. This will wash out excessive chemicals.

Q—What are the culture requirements of fuchsia?

A—Fuchsias dislike hot sun—place them where no direct rays of the sun appear during midday and afternoon. Keep soil moist but not wet by daily watering with a mist-spray on the plants. Mulch with peat moss or similar material. Fertilize with a fish emulsion.

Slugs by the hundreds are feasting on the tender annuals in our garden. What can be done to eliminate them?

A—Repeated dusting of soil and plants with 5 per cent DDT should get them.

Q—What can be done to eliminate the white coating on zinnias, causing the leaves to wilt and dry?

A—Zinnias, and many other

Bird Departments Close In Fight On Parrot Fever

PHILADELPHIA UP—The bird departments in six city stores have been closed in an effort to combat the virus disease psittacosis, or parrot fever, the Philadelphia Health Department has disclosed.

The department said 30 cases of the disease had been reported in the city. Acting Health Commissioner Dr. Norman I. Ingraham said this was "near epidemic proportions."

Obituary

Wilber L. Frost

Wilber L. Frost, 90, of Hanover, died of a heart attack at 11:30 a.m. Saturday while walking on the downtown main street. He had been ill one week.

He was born in Center Township Aug. 3, 1863. He was a member of the Hanover Presbyterian Church.

Survivors include his wife, Mary E. Frost, a patient in the Valley Nursing Home; a daughter, Miss Alma V. Frost of Akron; five sons, Walter B. of Denver, Colo., Leonard W. of Pomona, Calif., George Ernest of Warren, Jesse B. of Indianapolis, Ind., and Donald O. of Hanover; a step-daughter, Mrs. Grace Wilson of Denver, Colo., one sister, Miss Elsie B. Frost of Akron; 17 grandchildren; and 10 great-grandchildren.

Funeral service will be Tuesday at 2 p.m. in the Hanover Presbyterian Church with Rev. Ashley Wilson, pastor, officiating. Burial will be in Lisbon Cemetery.

Friends may call at the Maple Funeral Home in Kensington Monday evening.

The body will lie in state for one hour prior to the service in the church.

Anthony Vaccaro

EAST PALESTINE — Anthony Vaccaro, 67, of 275 E. Taggart St., died at 1:55 a.m. Saturday in Salem City Hospital where he underwent an operation a week ago.

A native of Italy, he was a punch press operator at the Adamson Mfg. Co. here.

He was married 31 years ago to Ella Deleone, who survives, together with six daughters.

He was a member of Our Lady of Lourdes Church and the Moose lodge.

Funeral service will be Tuesday at 9 a.m. in the church.

Clingerman Infant

Roger Dean Clingerman of RD 4, Salem, five-month-old son of Lester and Margaret Hennon Clingerman, died Sunday at 9:30 p.m. in the Central Clinic where he was admitted July 13 for medical treatment.

Born Feb. 8, 1954, he was in the cradle roll department of the Assembly of God Church.

He is survived by two sisters, Donna Jean and Nancy Lee, at home; his paternal grandparents, Herbert Clingerman and Mrs. Selma Price; maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Droney; and great-grandparents, Banner Clingerman and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Hennon.

Services will be Wednesday at 2 p.m. at the Bieber Memorial Funeral Home with Rev. A. Laten Carter officiating.

Friends may call Tuesday night at the Memorial.

McCarthy

says he has, one summoned witness appeared to be Edwin Garfield, 39, an Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Co. employee.

Garfield said last night in Boston he got a McCarthy subpoena to show up at the Washington hearing. He said he does not do defense or secret work, but that he is an active member of the United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers Union (Ind) and edits a local union paper.

"McCarthy has been trying to get my union for a long time," he said.

While Flanders' tangle with McCarthy has many roots, the Vermont's censure resolution due up for Senate action tomorrow hits squarely at McCarthy's conduct as chairman of the investigating group.

Without specifying what his conduct is, the one-sentence resolution says it "is unbecoming a member of the U.S. Senate, is contrary to senatorial traditions, and tends to bring the Senate into disrepute, and such conduct is hereby condemned."

However, Flanders mentioned details of McCarthy's actions as subcommittee chairman only briefly in his prepared speech. Instead, the Vermont Republican outlined what he said were "patterns of a most disturbing sort" into which he fitted McCarthy.

"One of the aspects of the time of troubles for our country is that, willy nilly, our country exercises the leadership of the world during this period of crisis," Flanders said. "This is the frame. What picture shall we put within it?"

"We put within it a picture of confusion in leadership to which the senator from Wisconsin has made a major contribution."

"The next frame" Flanders outlined stemmed, he said, from his "experiences of repeated visits to Germany in the period between the two wars."

"Hitler exploited the issue of communism, and on it he rose to power," Flanders went on. "When it became convenient, he allied himself with it. . . . He set his rations against the Jews. . . . He destroyed free labor unions. He set up his private police force and spy system. He worked toward, and ultimately achieved for himself, the sole authority in government, in business and in society in general. Curiously enough his financial support came from wealthy businessmen. . . ."

"Each of these features finds its parallel, though it must be admitted to a weaker degree, in the career of the junior senator from Wisconsin."

clung to its demand for U. N. supervision of the armistice, but that the issue would be decided "over our heads." He complained again that the Vietnamese "are kept in ignorance of whatever happens."

A high American source said it will be very difficult for the Communists to turn down the offer made by Mendes-France and "still make it appear they want peace."

This source said that if the Communists block Mendes-France's bid they will lose tremendous ground in their effort to win Asia for the Chinese, particularly in India and Burma.

It was reported U.S. Undersecretary of State Walter Bedell Smith's HANOVERTON BANK OPENS.—On hand when the Farmers National Bank opened its new branch office in the village of Hanoverton Saturday were (l. to r.) E. M. Stephenson, president; Richard T. Speidel, vice president in charge of branch offices, and Lee E. Bowman, assistant cashier and manager of the Hanoverton office who is being congratulated by Hanoverton Mayor Howard W. Hart, himself a retired banker.

statement of the U.S. position at yesterday's session of the conference had aroused no objections from the Communist side. Smith stated the United States was prepared to help in arriving at a just and honorable peace and that it would honor its obligations under the U. N. charter in the event of an agreement.

Mendes-France saw Vietnamese Foreign Minister Tran Van Do early today and then went to see British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden. He conferred with Bedell Smith later and planned to dine with Eden tonight. The lease on Mendes - France's villa expires Wednesday and there was every indication he was prepared to move out, in or out of office.

The determined French Premier moved tirelessly ahead with his busy round of private conferences in an all-out final effort to make good on his promise to secure a cease-fire by July 20 or resign.

The private sessions of small groups of delegates continued after one of the most puzzling conference sessions yesterday of the 12 weeks of negotiations here.

Called for insistently by Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov over the objections of Britain and France, the nine-party session lasted only a little more than an hour and provided no new developments.

Molotov opened the general session yesterday with a summary of the proposals before the conference. He expressed belief that agreement could be reached "with good will on all sides."

But after that opening, only Vietnamese Foreign Minister Tran Van Do and U. S. Under Secretary of State Walter Bedell Smith asked to speak. Neither Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai nor Vietnamese Foreign Minister Pham Van Dong had anything to say.

After Do and Smith were heard, the session broke up for tea and did not resume.

Smith in his brief speech said the United States was willing to assist in reaching a just settlement of the war but would not impose its views on any of the belligerents, whom he described as the principal interested parties.

He said if the conference produced a cease-fire agreement which the United States could respect, it was prepared to issue a declaration emphasizing that it would regard any revival of aggression "with grave concern."

Do voiced again the Vietnamese government's opposition to the partition of his country now being studied by the French and Communist delegations. He asked for U. N. supervision of the whole country, a proposal the Communists already have rejected.

The Vietnamese opposition to partition was underlined in Saigon yesterday by a parade of 10,000 to 12,000 natives parading in protest against any split in their country.

45 Workers Return To Lisbon Pottery Jobs

LISBON — Ending a two-week paid vacation, 45 workers returned to their jobs at the R. Thomas and Sons Co. pottery this morning.

Plant officials say they do not know when the 130 others on the labor force would be called back.

The plant shut down July 4 for the annual vacation, although office employees worked through the period.

in attempting to chase a bee out of his car veered onto the wrong side of the road and hit the approaching West auto.

Fraser was treated at Salem City Hospital for lacerations of the lip, right arm and neck, abrasions of the knee and possible fractures. His wife, Faye, 57, suffered lacerations of the face, forehead, right knee, abrasions of the chest and possible fractures, while West suffered lacerations of the forehead and mouth and loss of four teeth.

West's wife, Sarah, 19, was treated for lacerations of the neck.

The Frasers are reported in fair condition while the Wests are in good condition.

Mary Gieger, 10, of East Palestine, suffered lacerations of the lip when a car driven by her father, Paul, 29, was involved in a side-swipe collision with an auto driven by Ronald McTague, 17, of East Palestine.

The accident occurred on a county road two miles west of East Palestine at 8 p.m. yesterday.

on shareholders on their dividends from stock.

Senate Less Liberal

The House voted for administration recommendations, but the Senate adopted a much less liberal treatment for dividend income. Acceptance of one version or the other might lead to trouble when the final bill goes before the House and Senate for approval.

Chairman Aiken (R-Vt) of the Senate Agriculture Committee announced last night he will seek Senate approval of a compromise farm bill which would authorize flexible price supports between 80 and 90 per cent of parity.

Eisenhower urged flexible supports between 75 and 90 per cent of parity, but he has hailed the House action in voting for a modified plan in which props would range between 82½ and 90 per cent.
